

Do Not Forget Philipsburg's "Old Home Week" Celebration, Sept. 12-19.

Bellefonte Republican

Established 1869.

BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 12, 1909.

Vol. 42. No. 37.

BLOWS OUT BRAINS WITH OLD SHOT GUN

Ephraim H. Shook, Penn Hall Farmer, Kills Himself in His Bedroom.

DEPRESSED BY ILLNESS

Terrible Tragedy Apparently Premeditated—Ends Life While Son is Temporarily Absent—Family Requests Private Funeral.

Depressed by illness that had covered a period of five or six years Ephraim H. Shook, a farmer, about 50 years old, early yesterday morning blew out his brains with a shotgun, at his home, near Penn Hall. The terrible tragedy created considerable excitement and much sympathy was expressed for the family of the unfortunate man.

From what could be learned Mr. Shook, who was a farmer, was sleeping with his son, Ralph, when the latter, becoming ill some time after 3 o'clock in the morning, got out of bed and left the room. He had been gone but a few minutes when he heard a loud report, and rushing back he found his father dead, his body stretched partly across the bed. A shotgun lying nearby told the story of how he had killed himself. The load of shot entered Mr. Shook's head, and death was instantaneous.

The fact that Mr. Shook left his bed, secured the gun and returning, blew out his brains in such a brief interval, was accepted as indicating that he had planned to thus end his life.

According to members of the family and neighbors Mr. Shook had no financial troubles. For five or six years, however, he had been in failing health and it is supposed that this so weighed on his mind that he decided to end it all. While conscious of the fact that he was suffering much over his condition the family little dreamed that he contemplated taking his life.

Mr. Shook is survived by a widow and two sons, Ralph and Gross, all living on the farm, which is located about one mile or so from Penn Hall.

Members of the family said that the funeral would be held today and requested that it be strictly private.

Big Real Estate Auction.

Indications are that a large crowd will go to State College for the real estate auction, on Saturday. The novelty of trying to win a lot has added to the interest attending the auction. A free special train will leave Bellefonte, at 10.30 o'clock, Saturday morning, and will return that evening. Tickets entitling all persons to participate in the lot contest may be had, free, by applying to Leathers Bros. at the Bush House, between 6 and 10 o'clock, tomorrow evening.

Academy Gets New Coach.

Headmaster James R. Hughes, of the Bellefonte Academy, has secured the services of D. M. Evans, of Kent, Ohio, to act as athletic coach during the coming school year. Charles Hall, last year's coach, was forced to resign owing to rheumatism. Mr. Evans is a graduate of the Western University of Ohio, and is six feet one inch tall, weighing 185 pounds. While at college, he captained the foot ball and base ball teams and was one of the star players on the basket ball team.

First Curfew Arrests.

While playing in front of Paul Sheffer's grocery store, Saturday night, Howard Johnson, Merlin Green, George Green and Wilbur Losch were arrested for violating the curfew ordinance. The boys were kept in the lock-up all night, and were let out in the morning, this being their first offence. These are the first arrests made since the curfew ordinance went into effect, over a year ago.

Joseph B. Ard.

The funeral of Joseph B. Ard, a well known resident of Pine Grove Mills, who died, on Wednesday of last week, was held last Friday morning, at the Presbyterian Church. Rev. W. K. Harsh conducted the services. Interment was made at the Pine Grove Mills Union Cemetery.

Barn Burned.

A large barn, just outside of Pine Grove Mills belonging to Jacob Kepner, was burned Tuesday night. The cause of the fire is thought to have been spontaneous combustion, caused by storing green hay in the barn. No live stock were burned. Practically all loss is covered by insurance.

BAPTIZED 26 PERSONS

Interesting Services Held at Pleasant View Church.

Twenty-six persons, most of them children, were baptized at Pleasant View, on last Thursday night, by Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Wilcox, of the Methodist Church. Twenty of the members were baptized at services held at the Pleasant View Church. About one hundred persons, many of them from Bellefonte, were present.

Those baptized at the church were Marie McMullen, Violet McMullen, Oscar McMullen, Bessie McMullen, George Emel, Bertha Mabel Emel, Margaret Ellen Barnhart, Mary Barnhart, Bella Blanche Barnhart, Martha Jane Barnhart, John Holt Barnhart, John Holt Barnhart, Jr., Robert Kline Barnhart, Joseph Keller, Mary Keller, George Keller, Hassel Keller, Cora Rebecca Hoyers, Franklin Wallace Hoyers and John Hassinger.

The following were baptized at their respective homes: Florence Irene Spicer, Anna Matilda Spicer, Nellie Ellen Spicer, Clara Grace Spicer and Dorothy McMullen.

SCHOOL PLANS.

Open Sept. 6; All but Mid-way Pupils Go to Brick Building.

Although the old Stone school building has been torn down and the new structure will not be ready for occupancy for several months, at the earliest the Bellefonte public schools will open Sept. 6, for a nine-months' term. The board of school directors, at a meeting on Tuesday night, adopted the following program:

High school students, meet same place as in the past. All grade schools, except the mid-way, will be in the Brick Building; one-half the pupils will meet at 8.30 in the morning until noon. The other half will meet from 1 until 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Fantasia.

Fantasia, which was presented to a Bellefonte audience, on Monday and Tuesday nights, was a most pleasing home talent entertainment. Great credit is due not only to the participants but also to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ehrhart, the trainers. Several pronounced hits were scored, but it would not be fair to mention one without mentioning all. About $100 was cleared for the Y. M. C. A. It has been decided that another performance of Fantasia will be presented to-night. The price of seats will be twenty cents all over house. Take our advice, go.

Crust and Clark Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Crust and Clark clan will be held at Hunters Park, Saturday Aug. 28. An exceptionally large attendance is anticipated this year, as the reunion promises to be one of unusual interest. An interesting program has been arranged. There will be two games of baseball. In regard to dinner do not forget that this is a basket picnic, therefore, do not forget your basket. There will be fruits, ice cream and refreshments sold on the grounds. All are cordially invited to attend and bring their friends along.

Faces Burned by Steam.

Mrs. Albert Sager, of Mackeyville, and Mrs. Charles McClintock, of Salona, were quite painfully burned about the face while attending the Reformed Church picnic, at Hecla Park, on Thursday last week. They, with some other ladies, were making coffee, and one of the pots, it seems, had no steam exhaust. Mrs. McClintock lifted the lid of this coffee pot and a rush of steam enveloped her face and also that of Mrs. Sager. Their injuries, while very painful, were not serious.

Marriage Licenses.

Register Earle C. Tuten has recorded the following marriage licenses in the last week:

John W. P. Clark	Waddles
Anna Catherine Jones	"
William L. Johnson	Milesburg
Sarah E. Foster	"
Patrick H. Moore	Snow Shoe
Clara B. Smith	"

Reunion at Agar's Park.

Members of the Hunter, Thomas, Bailey and Beamer families will hold the regular annual reunion at Agar's Park, Mill Hall, Wednesday, August 18. All members of these families and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

To Hold Festival.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the United Brethren church will hold an ice cream and cake festival, on Saturday evening, in the room adjoining the church.

DECIDE SCHOOL LOAN AT POLLS ON TUESDAY

If Defeated Cannot Hold Another Election for One Year.

MAKES A FINAL APPEAL

D. F. Fortney, of School Board, Says He Believes People will Not Refuse the $33,000 Needed—Engineers to Examine Foundation.

Members of the School Board predict approval of the proposed $33,000 loan at the special election, on Tuesday next. Just how large a vote will be polled will depend on the weather and to what extent the opponents of the loan are active in the next four days.

Friends of the loan anticipate more or less opposition to it in each of the several wards but believe that the vote in its favor will be sufficiently large to insure a safe majority.

Although the people have not decided one way or the other about the loan the contracts for the new school building and the heating and ventilating plant have been awarded and the contractors are at work. Just what will be the situation in the event of the loan being defeated is a matter of more or less discussion.

One vital point which has been overlooked up to this time is the fact that if the loan is defeated on Tuesday another school loan election cannot be held for one year from that date.

Another feature, vitally important to the taxpayer, is the fact that if the loan is defeated the school board will be placed in the position of being forced to increase the school tax to pay for the new building in five or six years. It has the power to increase this to thirteen mills.

The eve of the election finds a protest on the part of some that one or more of the foundation walls are not strong enough for the proposed building. In order that there may be no doubt on this point the school board has arranged to have Professor E. D. Walker, of State College, the well known civil engineer, make a thorough examination of all the walls today. In ordering this done the school board gives further evidence of its desire and determination to provide for the children of Bellefonte a school building that will be everything it should be, that will meet all demands in years to come and meanwhile stand as a credit to the community.

On Tuesday we asked D. F. Fortney to make a prediction as to the probable result of the vote on the loan. He replied with the following:

I am asked for a prediction as to the result of the vote on what is called the school loan. I only know what the result should be. Indeed there ought to be no question about the result.

1. There are, I think, a few facts no one will dispute. The first one is, that more school room and better provision for the accommodation of the schools were absolutely necessary. On this the ministers of all the churches in town so declared themselves, in December 1906, when they stated to the board "that they believed the present building (referring to the old stone building) to be wholly inadequate to the present needs of the pupils, from the standpoint of comfort, convenience and health." The men who said this were capable and well informed on the subject on which they addressed the board.

The physicians of the town were very decided and, to members of the board and the patrons of the school, expressed their condemnation of the provision made for the accommodation, comfort and convenience of the children who attended school in the North ward. This was especially so in regard to the sanitation and light of the building.

2. The necessity for more school room with better surroundings and appliances for the preservation of the health and eyes of the pupils being conceded, who was to furnish it? This, of course, was the duty of the board and in doing this they were bound to use their best judgment, and act upon it. This I think they have done. To have expended any money for a school building and not provided the latest and best improvements science, inventions and discovery can now give, would have been a crime.

In answer to the usual complaint that the old building should not have been taken down I would say that, for at least five years, the question was before the board and considered in every light possible. To have built to the old building and let it remain as it was would have done no good. To have torn out the inside and tried to remodel the

(Continued on fourth Page.)

RIPE OLD AGE

Millheim Has Thirty Residents Over 70 Years Old.

Millheim has thirty residents, at least, who are between the ages of 70 and 88 years. The very active correspondent of "The Republican," at Millheim, sends us the following list of residents of that town who have passed the three score and ten mark, and who are today enjoying good health:

Mrs. Jonathan Kramer	86
Mrs. D. A. Musser	84
Mrs. Jacob Eisenhuth	82
Mrs. Solomon Winklerblech	82
Mrs. William Haney	79
Mrs. Jacob Gephart	79
Mrs. John Kern	77
Mrs. Adolph Miller	76
Mrs. Fred Catherman	76
Miss Caroline Knarr	76
Mrs. Michael Lamey	74
Mrs. Frank Knarr	73
Mrs. Sarah Shreffler	73
Mrs. John H. Auman	72
Mrs. Mary Kleckner	70
Mrs. John E. Relau	70
John Stoner	83
Fred Catherman	87
I. Gen Musser	80
Frank Knarr	78
W. A. Tobias	77
Abraham Harter	76
W. K. Welser	76
Henry Brown	75
Henry Brown	75
Joseph Kraver	74
Henry E. Duck	72
George Ulrich	71
George B. Stover	71
Stephanus Moyer	71

Millheim is not only a pretty little town, but a glance at the foregoing list of residents enjoying a ripe, old age is pretty good evidence that a healthier spot could not be found.

SAW MILL BURNED

Yearick's Plant, at Jacksonville, Destroyed; Loss, $5,000.

A disastrous fire was that which, on Saturday last, completely destroyed the saw mill and lumber yard of N. H. Yearick, at Jacksonville. The loss is estimated at about $5,000, and with no insurance.

The fire was discovered shortly after 2 o'clock and by 5 o'clock the flames had extended to the lumber on the place. There were many volunteers on hand to help extinguish the fire but the heat was so intense that little or no progress could be made. It was midnight before the flames subsided, and then only because they had consumed everything on the place. The lumber destroyed included 800 railroad ties, two or three carloads of mining ties, several carloads of car bottoms and a large quantity of match timber.

Bellefonte Boy Abroad.

The rapid rise of George P. Runkle, a former Bellefonte boy, now commander of the Pennsylvania Nautical Schoolship Adams, is exceedingly gratifying to his many friends. Starting as a student on the old schoolship Saratoga, George demonstrated that he had the ability and pushed himself forward until he was given the prize assignment on the new training ship. The Adams will be leaving European waters for home on or about September 15. Letters were received from Commander Runkle, on Monday, from Harve, France, telling of a successful trip and looking forward to the time for returning home.

Had Narrow Escape.

John Bryan, of Milesburg, narrowly escaped losing the sight of one and possibly both eyes, while working at the Armor's Gap quarries a day or two ago. He was engaged in unloading rails from a "dinky", when a piece of one of the rails struck him in the face. His face was badly bruised, but fortunately the damage to his eyes was not such as to impair his sight.

Foster—Johnson.

Miss Sarah E. Foster, daughter of Mrs. Jane Foster, of Bellefonte, and William L. Johnson, of Milesburg, were united in marriage, Saturday evening, by Rev. Dubs, in the Evangelical parsonage, at Curtin's Works. The bride is one of Bellefonte's most popular young ladies, while the groom is one of the American Lime and Stone Company's most trustworthy employees.

Smith—Moore.

Miss Clara B. Smith and Patrick H. Moore, both of Snow Shoe, were married, August 3, by Justice of the Peace Alfred Thompson, at his residence, in Snow Shoe. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver E. Moore.

Jones—Clark.

Miss Annie C. Jones, daughter of John E. Jones, of Waddles, and John W. P. Clark, also of Waddles, were married, last Friday, by Rev. D. Barshinger, at the United Brethren Parsonage, in Bellefonte. They expect to reside in Waddles.

BELLEFONTE DEFEATS JERSEY SHORE, 5-4

Large Crowd Attends Most Exciting Game of Season.

RENOVO ON SATURDAY

Tuesday's Victory Was Sixth Straight From Strong Jersey Shore Club—Home Boys Putting up Fast Snappy Game and Playing to Win.

Bellefonte, 5; Jersey Shore, 4.

When, in the last half of the ninth inning, Keichline raced across the home plate, tying the score, and a moment later Martz tore through a cloud of dust with the winning run, several hundred wildly excited Bellefonte fans yelled like mad, threw their hats into the air, slapped one another on the back and in every imaginable kind of way tried to say: "Wasn't it great?"

And it was great. It was "good luck Tuesday," for after losing several fine chances to put the game on ice Bellefonte only nosed out ahead of Jersey Shore and that largely through good luck. At times Bellefonte outplayed Jersey Shore, both in the field and at the bat. In the seventh Bellefonte had the bases full and no one down. For a minute it looked like easy money, but Jersey Shore tightened up and but one man crossed the plate.

And then came the ninth, with each side three runs to the good and something bound to break. First Jersey Shore went one to the good, and then Bellefonte topped this one better. And then the crowd went mad. Dr. Hayes shook hands with himself, Linn Harris forgot his rheumatism, John Shugert offered to haul passengers into town, John Bower tried to put on "Tom" Mitchell's coat and "Cap." Mingle wore a smile that couldn't come off. Great was the joy in the camp of fandom. Everybody who used to think the Bellefonte team a crowd of punky players voted them the best ever. Fickle fandom switched completely about and gave Bellefonte the kind of cheering, which, if well placed while the game is on, will help to pull out of many a close pinch.

It was the sixth straight victory over Jersey Shore, the strongest team in the inter-county league.

Renovo plays here on Saturday and Bellefonte is more than confident of winning.

The scoring started in the second inning. M. Otto smashed out a two-bagger after Jacobs had been thrown out at first. Kaufman died on a fly to deep left. Turner was passed to first. Keichline lined out a hard one, which was fumbled by Coutts, in left, and Otto and Turner pranced home.

There was nothing doing until the fourth, when Coutts, for Jersey Shore, shot one over second. He went to second on a free pass for Price, and then came a squall that gave the fans heart failure. Reitmeyer cracked out one to left, which went through Otto's hands. Before the ball could be fielded Coutts, Price and Reitmeyer had crossed the plate. Coutts, however, was out, having been hit by the batted ball, and his run didn't count. Score 2-2.

In the fifth Jersey Shore scored one more, Holleran hitting safely, stealing second and coming home on a drive over second by Smith. Bellefonte tied the score in the seventh. Turner hit safely and stole second. Keichline singled and both were advanced a base on Eddy's bunt. Bailey hit to short, forcing Turner at the plate. Reitmeyer, however, hit Bailey with the ball in trying to catch him at first, and Keichline trotted home.

Martz then relieved Eddy in the box, for Bellefonte, but Jersey Shore succeeded in getting one over the plate on a fumble by Kaufman. In the last half of the ninth Bellefonte went in to win. Keichline was safe on a muffed fly and went to second on Holleran's wild throw. Martz hit to the infield and Holleran threw widely to first. Keichline scored and a moment later Martz crossed the plate on a wild pitch by Coder. The detailed score follows:

JERSEY SHORE		BELLEFONTE
R.	B.	R.	B.
1	1	1	1
2	2	2	2
3	3	3	3
4	4	4	4
5	5	5	5
6	6	6	6
7	7	7	7
8	8	8	8
9	9	9	9
10	10	10	10
11	11	11	11
12	12	12	12
13	13	13	13
14	14	14	14
15	15	15	15
16	16	16	16
17	17	17	17
18	18	18	18
19	19	19	19
20	20	20	20
21	21	21	21
22	22	22	22
23	23	23	23
24	24	24	24
25	25	25	25
26	26	26	26
27	27	27	27
28	28	28	28
29	29	29	29
30	30	30	30
31	31	31	31
32	32	32	32
33	33	33	33
34	34	34	34
35	35	35	35
36	36	36	36
37	37	37	37
38	38	38	38
39	39	39	39
40	40	40	40
41	41	41	41
42	42	42	42
43	43	43	43
44	44	44	44
45	45	45	45
46	46	46	46
47	47	47	47
48	48	48	48
49	49	49	49
50	50	50	50
51	51	51	51
52	52	52	52
53	53	53	53
54	54	54	54
55	55	55	55
56	56	56	56
57	57	57	57
58	58	58	58
59	59	59	59
60	60	60	60
61	61	61	61
62	62	62	62
63	63	63	63
64	64	64	64
65	65	65	65
66	66	66	66
67	67	67	67
68	68	68	68
69	69	69	69
70	70	70	70
71	71	71	71
72	72	72	72
73	73	73	73
74	74	74	74
75	75	75	75
76	76	76	76
77	77	77	77
78	78	78	78
79	79	79	79
80	80	80	80
81	81	81	81
82	82	82	82
83	83	83	83
84	84	84	84
85	85	85	85
86	86	86	86
87	87	87	87
88	88	88	88
89	89	89	89
90	90	90	90
91	91	91	91
92

The Man From Home

A Novelization of the Play of the Same Name

By BOOTH TARKINGTON and
HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association

SYNOPSIS.

Daniel Voorhees Pike, an Indiana lawyer, is in love with his ward, Ethel Granger-Simpson, and follows her abroad, where she promises to marry Almeric St. Aubyn, because she craves a title. With her brother, Horace, she is at Sorrento, Italy, and is persuaded by Horace to settle $750,000 on Almeric. The Russian Grand Duke, incognito, arrives at Sorrento with Pike, on foot, their auto having broken down. Ethel, Harold and the Hawcastle party are disgusted with what they term the "American manners" of Pike. She tells Pike of her identity, as he had failed to recognize her in her European clothes and European deportment. Pike refuses to consent as her guardian to her settling $750,000 on Almeric, and Ethel is enraged at him.

(Continued from last week.)

"And that—that nine cent imitation of a man," he growled at last—"that vilification upon the—the—genus homo!" he finished with a flash of pride. Then he went off to his rooms and tried to adjust himself to the matter as he saw it and incidentally to bring some of that astute legal training gleaned from contact with farmers, promoters and other citizens to bear upon the case.

Horace in the meanwhile had walked along the cliff, wrestling with the situation as it appeared to him. There was not the faintest doubt in his mind that the noble earl would break off the match because of the humiliation his equally noble family had been subjected to by the incursion of this vulgar guardian.

Hot and tired, he returned to the hotel with some of his anguish worked off and sought his sister. She, however, was locked up in her own room and would only insist that he go away. So it was from Lady Creech at last that he gleaned some inkling of what had occurred.

It was nearly 6 o'clock when he made up his mind to search out Pike and "have it out with the beggar," as he put it, and he found the obstacle in the entrance garden. As Horace came upon the scene Pike was pounding cheerfully with a hammer upon a bolt-head of the motor car.

He was in his shirt sleeves and wore a long workman's smock close buttoned at the neck. From between his teeth came the unfamiliar strains of "The Blue and the Gray." With a revulsion of feeling Horace approached him.

"Mr. Pike!" he said politely. "One lies down at Appomattox," went on the song, and Horace stamped impatiently upon the turf.

"Mr. Pike! Mr. Pike! I wish a word with you!" Horace went on quite angrily. Pike looked up mildly and regarded Horace with interest.

"Eh?" he said and moved to the other side of the machine, rubbing his lean chin with the handle of a monkey wrench.

"I wished to say that the surprise of this morning so upset me that I went for a long walk. I have just returned," said Horace.

He waited expectantly, but Mr. Pike went on abstractedly, "One wears clothes of gray," and seemed to be absorbed in his work, so that Horace was forced to go on.

"I have been even more upset by what I have just learned." "Why, that's too bad," answered Pike, fishing for a nut in the bottom of the tonneau.

"It is too bad—absurdly—monstrously bad! Lady Creech tells me that my sister did you the honor to present you to the family with which we are forming an alliance—at least to a portion of it!"

"Yes, sir," answered Pike, "and promised to present me to the whole possetucky of 'em!"

"I'll not listen to you!" cried Horace in a rage. "And I warn you that we shall act without paying the slightest attention to you!"

Pike straightened up a trifle.

"Your sister kind of hinted in her letter that you think a good deal of this French lady—the widow. I suppose you have made up your mind to take her for richer or poorer, eh? Now, what's she going to give you?"

Horace stopped short in horrified amazement.

"Why, I thought you'd charge her something—just a little. Ain't that the way over here?"

"It seems impossible for you to understand our motives in trying to lift ourselves above the common herd. You are trying to interfere between us and the fine flower of Europe," went on Horace excitedly.

Pike straightened up and looked him in the eye quizzically.

"I never heard none of the folks around Kokomo speak of your pa as a 'fine flower,' but we thought a heap of him, and when he married your ma he was glad to get her, and I never heard that he asked for any settlement. When she took him he was a poor man, but if he'd had $750,000 I'll bet he'd 'a' given it for her."

Horace turned short about and retired from the scene. It was evidently impossible to argue with this plebeian,

As he went toward the gates he met Almeric and Lady Creech and informed them eloquently of the ill success of his attempt to reason with the lawyer. Then he went out again to the cliff.

Almeric accompanied him a few steps and then turned off to the village, for he said he simply must take another look at that pup. And Lady Creech announced that she intended to have "forty winks" in her own room. Five minutes later Daniel, looking up from a superb rendition of "Dolly Gray," saw her glaring at him from her window.

Then came the Herr von Grollerhagen from the hotel. He was the same calm, imperturbable individual as ever, and he smoked with the languid abandon of a man born to ease. He approached Daniel with a smile.

"You make progress, my friend?" he asked, and Daniel smiled at him.

"Your machine's like a good many people, doc. It's got sand in its gear box."

At that moment Mariano hastened out and fumbled nervously with the lock on the big gates. Von Grollerhagen turned instantly.

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"You are locking us in," he said. "No, herr," replied the servant; "I lock some one out—that bandit who have not been captured. The carabinieri warn all to lock the gates for an hour. Soon they will capture that wicked one. M'sieu, this convict is a Russian."

"THE CARABINIERI BEG THAT YOU WILL ORDER THE CHAUFFEUR TO STEP FORTH FROM THE MACHINE."

With a keen glance, Von Grollerhagen waved the man aside. Daniel smiled.

"They've got two companies of the tin soldiers. Out my way the town marshal would have had him yesterday."

"My friend, you are teaching me to respect your country, not by what you brag, but by what you do."

"How's that?" asked Pike. "I see how a son of that great democracy can apply himself to a dirty machine while his eyes are full of visions of one of its beautiful daughters."

"Doc, there's sand in your gear box!" Then he looked up. "Now, you go down to the kitchen and make signs for some of the help to give you a bunch of nice clean rags."

For an instant the German drew himself up haughtily.

"What is it you ask me to do?" "Get me some more rags," said Daniel quietly, and Von Grollerhagen bowed low.

"I'd go myself, but it wouldn't be safe to leave the machine."

"You fear this famous bandit would steal it?" laughed the German.

"No; there's parties around here might think it was a settlement."

"My friend," Von Grollerhagen said gravely, "I do not understand."

"That's where we are in the same fix, doc," said Pike, with a chuckle, and bent over the machine again, while Von Grollerhagen departed on his mission.

While Pike worked he thought, and the thoughts finally arrived at the point where he saw that all he had to do to save the girl he had come so far to see was to sit tight on his refusal. He had accurately gauged the noble earl and his interesting son and sister-in-law, and he knew that it was a thousand to one that they would not agree to a marriage if there was no money in sight.

"They'll make more'n one bid for old Simpson's money," he assured himself and then looked up quickly, for the leaves on the pergola were rustling in a way that no wind should have caused.

As he looked the figure of a man appeared over the top of the vines and a pale face looked into his with imporing eyes. Pike looked at him calmly and knew at once that this was the man the carabinieri were pursuing.

"Est ce que vous êtes un homme de bon cœur? Je ne suis pas coupable!"

"Are you a kind hearted man? I am not guilty!" he began, when Pike cut him off with a shake of the head.

"There ain't any use in the world your talking to me like that," he said mournfully, and the refugee's eyes gleamed with hope.

"You are an American?" he said, making preparations to descend.

"They haven't made anything else out of me," answered Daniel, and the refugee climbed down and leaned weakly against the car.

"If you give me up I shall not be taken alive! I have no weapon, but I shall find a way to cut my throat!"

"Are you the bandit they're looking for?" asked Daniel, with interest.

"They call me that? How close are they?" asked the other, with sudden fright. Pike looked at the gates and heard a clank of sabers off on the road.

"There!" he said and stripped off his blouse. "Did they see you climb that wall?"

"I think not," murmured the man. "Do you know anything about automobiles?" asked Daniel, holding out the coat.

"Not a thing in the world," replied the other despairingly.

"Then you're a chauffeur, all right," returned the lawyer, forcing the rough garment on the man. "Here! climb in under that machine, and don't you dare unscrew anything. Pretend you are fixing."

He pushed the refugee toward the machine and saw him wriggle beneath it, then heard Mariano's agitated voice calling in the hotel. An instant later the maître d'hôtel rushed out to the entrance gates and threw them wide open, revealing two carabinieri without, who immediately entered. Then ensued a conversation in Italian that was pure Sanskrit to Pike, who looked on with calm interest. The commandant of the file addressed the lawyer in a long speech, to which Pike smiled and waited a cigar.

"Wishing you many happy returns, colonel," he said genially, and Mariano hastened forward.

"It is the robber of Russia. They think he climb the wall, the assassin. The others, they surround all yonder. These two, they search here. They ask you please, signore, have you seen him climb the wall?"

"No," replied Daniel shortly, turning away.

"They ask, then, has any one crossed the lawn?" went on the servant.

"No," replied Daniel, and as he spoke one of the men pointed his gun beneath the car at the figure in the long blouse.

"He ask who that is, signore," said Mariano excitedly, also pointing.

"The new chauffeur for the machine from Paris," answered Pike casually, and, with a bow, the two went off, one to the right and the other to the left. As they disappeared Von Grollerhagen came walking across the grass with some white rags in his hands and an amused smile upon his face.

"Is there a new eruption of Vesuvius?" he asked, waving the cloths. Daniel met him and took the rags.

"No," he said dryly. "It's an eruption of colic trying to arrest a high school professor. I've got him under your car there, yonder."

The start the German gave would have been ludicrous in any other situation.

"My friend," he said, "do you realize the penalty for protecting a criminal from arrest?"

"I told them he was your chauffeur. We'll be proud of the risk, doc." He turned to the refugee under the machine. "This man owns the car," he went on. "You can trust him the same as your own father." And the German shrugged his shoulders in protest. There was a clatter of arms, and Pike looked up.

(To Be Continued.)

—Try Admiral Coffee

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH BY THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing amendments to sections eight and twenty-one of article four, sections eleven and twelve of article five, sections two, three, and fourteen of article eight, section one of article twelve, and sections two and seven of article fourteen, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and providing a schedule for carrying the amendments into effect.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly assembled, that the following amendments be proposed to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof: Amendment One.—To Article Four, Section Eight.

Section 2. Amend section eight of article four of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:—

"He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in or out of session, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy, but in such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office on the next election day appropriate to such office, according to the provisions of this Constitution, unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day in which case the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nomination of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal."

He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in or out of session, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy, but in such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office on the next election day appropriate to such office, according to the provisions of this Constitution, unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day in which case the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nomination of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal."

Amendment Two.—To Article Four, Section Twenty-one.

Section 3. Amend section twenty-one of article four, which reads as follows:—

"The term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be four years; of the Auditor General three years; and of the State Treasurer two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections. No person shall be eligible for a second term of office as Auditor General or State Treasurer, and they shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections but a State Treasurer, elected in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine shall serve for three years, and his successors shall be elected at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and in every fourth year thereafter. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms."

Amendment Three.—To Article Five, Section Eleven.

Section 4. Amend section eleven of article five, which reads as follows:—

"Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs and townships at the time of the election of constables by the qualified electors thereof, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of five years. No township ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township ward, district or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over five thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district," so as to read:—

"Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs and townships by the qualified electors thereof, at the municipal election, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of six years. No township ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township ward, district or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over five thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district."

Amendment Four.—To Article Five, Section Twelve.

Section 5. Amend section twelve of article five of the Constitution, which reads as follows:—

"In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be five years and they shall be elected on general ticket by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected; when more than one are to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished," so as to read as follows:—

In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be six years, and they shall be elected on general ticket at the municipal election, by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected when more than one are to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished."

Amendment Five.—To Article Eight, Section Two.

Section 6. Amend section two of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"The general election shall be held annually on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto," so as to read:—

"The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each even-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto. Provided, That such election shall always be held in an odd-numbered year."

Amendment Seven.—To Article Eight, Section Fourteen.

Section 7. Amend section fourteen of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"District election boards shall consist of a judge, and two inspectors, who shall be chosen annually by the citizens. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and each inspector shall appoint or shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service," so as to read:—

"District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen biennially, by the citizens at the municipal election; but the General Assembly may require said boards to be appointed in such manner as it may by law provide. Laws regulating the appointment of said boards may be enacted to apply to cities only. Provided, That such laws be uniform for cities of the same class. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service."

Amendment Eight.—To Article Twelve, Section One.

Section 9. Amend section one of article twelve, which reads as follows:—

"All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law," so as to read:—

"All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law. Provided, That elections of State officers shall be held on a general election day, and elections of local officers shall be held on a municipal election day, except when, in either case, special elections may be required to fill unexpired terms."

Amendment Nine.—To Article Fourteen, Section Two.

Section 10. Amend section two of article fourteen, which reads as follows:—

"County officers shall be elected at the general election, and shall hold their offices for the term of three years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law," so as to read:—

"County

PREPARING HISTORY OF 45TH PENNA. VOLS.

Interesting Record To Be Written of Men and Deeds.

OLD OFFICERS APPROVE

Beaver and Curtin, Colonel and Lieutenant Colonel of the Regiment, Issue Timely Address Commending the Project To All Survivors.

The 45th Regiment Pa. Vol. Inf., although not entirely a Centre County Regiment, was composed very largely of men from this country. Companies A, D, and E were practically entirely so. B was largely so. No other county in the state, therefore, was or is so greatly interested in this regiment as Centre. Its number was the first after the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps.

Authority for its recruiting was given both by the Secretary of War and the Governor of the state before the three-months' men were mustered out of service. To a very considerable extent, men who had been in service for the three months re-enlisted in the 45th. Its Colonel, Thomas Welsh, was Lieutenant Colonel of the 2nd Regiment in the three-months' service, the arrangement for the organization of the 45th having been made by him and Lieut. Beaver of "H" Co. In that regiment, who became the Lieutenant Colonel of the 45th. Col. Welsh, being placed in command of Camp Curtin by Gov. Curtin, was prevented from giving his personal attention to the recruiting of the regiment, but as Commander of Camp Curtin he had special advantages in the selection of companies to compose it. To this circumstance is no doubt largely due the exceptional character of the makeup of the regiment as to its personnel. The regiment had a remarkable career in many respects, particularly in the territorial extent of its service, the number and variety of its campaigns and the brilliant record which it made in all of them.

An effort is now being made by the "Washington, D. C., Association of the Survivors of the 45th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry" to prepare and have published a history of the regiment. With commendable energy, care and diligence, this little association, composed of less than half a dozen survivors, Major R. C. Cheesman and Nelson Lucas of this county being of the number (Major Cheesman being the president of the association), has prepared a complete roster of the survivors as a preliminary to the preparation of the history itself. This roster, of course, is not perfect. The names of some men who are dead are included therein and a number who are living are not included for various reasons. The association, however, is revising the list and will publish a new edition in the near future. The surprising thing about the roster is that it gives the names of nearly 500 as survivors out of probably about 1960 men who were at different times enrolled in the regiment. Allowing for the inclusion of men who are no longer living and the exclusion of men who ought to be included in this roster, there are doubtless 450 survivors. Inasmuch as the state of Pennsylvania takes 400 copies of each regimental history certified by the Governor, the Adjutant General and the Auditor General as being worthy of the name, at a price not exceeding $2.00 per volume, it is easy to see that there will be no difficulty in publishing and disposing of an edition of at least 1900. Several of the comrades have already subscribed for a number of volumes each, running from 2 to 12.

The character of the volume is not yet determined. If a suitable person can be secured to write the history from the material which will be furnished by the survivors, that plan may be adopted, or a general editor may be chosen who will revise the manuscript submitted by the survivors, so as to preserve the characteristics of the different writers. With our knowledge of the number of survivors of the regiment who can, from their own experience and personal observation, furnish what will be interesting and valuable articles, we feel sure that the result will be a most interesting volume. An article relating to the life of a single member of the regiment, Capt. J. Oliver Campbell, has been prepared in manuscript by his sister, Mrs. E. Campbell. E. has a number of men who could, with great ease and acceptability, write very valuable chapters for such a history. Two of the companies of the regiment were from Tioga county. A number of men in both of these companies are abundantly able to write chapters which would be more than usually valuable and attractive. Two of the companies were from Lancaster county. These have also survivors, whose contributions would be of great interest. All things considered, we know of no regiment whose history would contain greater variety and be of greater interest to the survivors and their descendants than that of the 45th regiment.

There will probably be a reunion of the survivors in the month of September and the Washington Association expect to have their plans in such shape that they may be submitted to the survivors at this reunion for definite adoption, and it is hoped that a committee will there be named who will give immediate and careful attention to the details of the preparation of the history.

We very heartily commend to the survivors of the regiment this enterprise, which ought to appeal to every one who was in any way connected with or interested in it. From the interest which has been manifested by the survivors in Centre county, there is no doubt whatever as to their doing their full share in the preparation of the material for the history and of taking the number of copies when published, which would seem to be their proportion of the edition, whatever it may be.

We hope the splendid beginning made by the Washington Association will be continued and will find hearty encouragement and co-operation on the part of all the survivors of the regiment.

JOHN L. CURTIN,
Col. 45th Regt. Pa. Vols.
JAMES A. BEAVER,
Lieut. Col. 45th Pa. Vols.

SELDOM LATE

Pennsylvania Railroad's New York to Chicago Special Has Good Record.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's eighteen-hour train between New York and Chicago has just completed a continuous record of four years' service. From June 12, 1905, when the train was started, to June 12, 1909, a total of 2,922 trips were made—1,461 in each direction and upon 2,483 or 85 per cent. of these trips the train was on time or within five minutes of its schedule at destination.

The actual running time of the "Pennsylvania Special" from Jersey City to Chicago is 17 hours and 41 minutes. The scheduled time is 57.2 miles per hour, or 1,061 minutes to cover 912 miles. During this period of four years, therefore, the train has travelled 2,655,744 miles, and 2,145,740 miles were covered in scheduled time.

Upon only 160 trips, or an average of 80 in each direction, for the entire four years—or 20 for each year—was the train more than 30 minutes late. From New York to Chicago the train was on time to the minute 1,159 times out of 1,461 trips, while from Chicago to New York, the train arrived exactly on schedule 1,202 days. These records take account of operations during the whole of the winter period when snow, ice, fog and storm have to be encountered frequently.

The best record of the four years was the last, June 12, 1908, to June 12, 1909, when the train was on time or within five minutes of its schedule at New York on 326 days out of 365, and at Chicago on 315 days. The train thus made its schedule during the past year approximately 88 per cent of the time. For the month ending July 1st, 1909, the train was absolutely on time at Chicago and New York upon every one of the 30 days.

This train has thus now been operated continuously for a longer period, and has made its schedule with greater regularity, than any other train of like speed and distance in the history of transportation.

Informative.

In every issue of The Philadelphia Press there are three correspondence columns open to all readers. No matter who you are, you cannot read these three correspondence columns on any day without finding something of interest to you. Therefore, read The Philadelphia Press every day.

We have everything in the grocery line. Call a. d. e. Sechler & Co. 17

Send us $1 and we will send you all the news in "The Republican" each week for one year.

You cannot be well, feel well, or look well if your kidneys are deranged. Foley's Kidney Remedy makes healthy kidneys and cures backache, rheumatism, and all disorders of the urinary organs. Restores health and strength. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

No matter how long you have suffered, Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. Mrs. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." It will cure you. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Manzan reaches the spot. Stops in. The Great Kidney Remedy. Put up in tubes with recital nozzle, 50 cents.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bed effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, on every bottle.

The Land of Puzzledom.

No. 581.—Double Homonym.
The summer evening being warm,
I primal 'neath the park lights,
And final what on earth we'd do
If it were not for the *** *****

And, looking off across the bay
At starlike twinkling bank lights,
I pondered on a deeper theme—
What Noah did for *** *****

No. 582.—Primal Acrostic.
Primals spell the name of a famous American.
A wood. A racer. A continent.
Gypsies. One of the western states.
Bars used to raise great weight. An isle. Almost.

No. 583.—Metagram.
I am extensively used by shoemakers. Behaved, I become an instructive story; behaved again and I am fit for cultivation. Divide my whole into two equal parts and each part becomes a reversible word, the first meaning a mineral, the second powerful; read backward, the mineral is changed into blows; powerful into an island in the Mediterranean sea. Omit my first two and last two letters and I am a native of an eastern desert country. What is the whole word?

No. 584.—Riddle.
You'll find me in the garden,
You'll find me at the play;
You'll find me full of something
Saved for a rainy day.
I'm dreaded by the schoolboy;
By pugilists I'm tried;
By Jehu and by Jem
I'm often occupied.

No. 585.—In Business Hours.
8 9 10 4 said he had no 9 10 6 3 8, but one day, as the 1 3 12 5 8 4 old
11 6 7 sat in his office, he was attracted by hearing above the 9 12 13 of voices, the sound of music. It was in a 1 2 12 3 1 2 near by. He knew the 6 7 8 9 10 11; he had sung it 4 10 6 3 5 before, when he was a boy. He could not work. The tune haunted him so that he left the office and entered the building. 8 9 10 3 10 he sat in a 13 12 5 10 until the shrill 1 3 4 of a bird startled him. It had been 9 12 3 8, and had sought refuge, followed by its 13 6 8 10.

"Birdie," said the old 13 6 7, "does the world 9 6 3 6 5 5 you too? Let me 3 2 4 3 10 your burden." As the 1 2 6 7 8 ended he took the bird to 1 6 3 3 4 it to its 7 10 5 8, but upon second thought he laid it under the shelter of a cluster of 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 that stood upon the altar.

No. 586.—Hidden Animals.
(Example: You will find this animal in part of a human body. Kid, kidney.)

1. You will find this animal in torpid.
2. This in a large cask. 3. This in the top. 4. This in an old Venetian title. 5. This in hair on the face. 6. This in universal. 7. This in servile flattery. 8. This in a council or court. 9. This in a monk's hood. 10. This in a small projectile. 11. This in an odorless gas. 12. This in a child's toy. 13. This in a large pitcher.

No. 587.—Pictured Word.

What word is represented?

No. 588.—Behandings and Curtailments
Doubly behead and curtail a supplement and leave to hang; a judge and leave a small portion; a wonderful tale and leave a human being; to fall back and leave a fold.

No. 589.—Odd Divisions.
Divide 'tect or see into
A letter and a scout.
A humble home divided into
A carriage and not out.
Divide a heavy sledge into
Five hundred and a clout.

Curtailments.
1. Triply curtail a part of the hand and leave a part of a fish. 2. Doubly curtail a person and leave the song of a bee. 3. Curtail to spread over and leave a small sheltered inlet.

Answers: 1. Finger, fin. 2. Human, hum. 3. Cover, cove.

Key to Puzzledom.

No. 574.—Charades: 1. Cam, O, mille-camille. 2. Dog, ma-dogma. 3. Sigh, wren-shren.

No. 575.—A Kettle of Fish: 1. Parch. 2. Pike. 3. Shad (ow). 4. Herring. 5. Sole. 6. Chub. 7. Smelt. 8. Sheep-head. 9. Dolphin. 10. Halibut.

No. 576.—Reversible Words: 1. Now, won. 2. Reward, drawer. 3. Keel, leak. 4. Top, pot. 5. Dial, laid.

No. 577.—Transpositions: Buster, rubles, burles, brulse.

No. 578.—Enigma: Switch.

No. 579.—Illustrated Numerical Enigma: "He that will have a cake out of the wheat must needs tarry the grinding."

No. 580.—Curtailments: Tense, tense; pla, jet, plane, plan; magb, mass, mar; panel, pane, pan, pa.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

PROTESTATION and promise sound all right and kill time, but good old performance is the thing that takes the money.

Ideal people fade when the inspector calls.

A flirt is usually her own punishment.

It galls a man when it costs him money to get the worst of it.

The secrets that are salted down with tears are reasonably sure to be well kept.

Many a man's failure is largely due to the fact that he failed.

Some women are old enough to know better, and some know better than to be old enough.

When you meet a really wise man don't ask for advice. He won't give it. He is wise.

A summer resort and a rest cure were never cut from the same piece.

Think what beautiful United States senators women would make with no cloture working!

The Great Event.

Heigho!
Here comes
The three ring show.
And as
Around the town
Are posters
Bright,
A nobby sight,
Of rider and of clown.
High
On the flying,
Light trapeze
The pretty lady
Swings,
Performing
High above the crowd
With many
Fancy flings.
A troop
Of lordly elephants,
Six monsters—
Count 'em, six—
Are standing on
Their ample heads
And doing
Other tricks.
Some lions
Fresh from Africa,
In fine
And awful rage
And looking
Pierce as anything,
Are pacing
In their cage.
And many other Animals
From many Foreign lands
Are pictured there,
While just beyond
We see
A string of bands.
The grand, stupendous,
Up to date—full twice your money's worth—
The aggregation of the age,
The only
Show on earth!

Missed Something.
"Isn't this bill an overcharge?" asked the victim of the collector for the steam laundry.

"Didn't you have all of the work done?"

"Yes, in a way, but I noticed in looking over the last package that there were three collars in which you had neglected to file the customary teeth."

Warning.
It makes a fellow humble
And look for where to flee
When the bee begins to bumble
Beneath the apple tree.

Putting It Fairly.

"Will you marry me?"
"Well, honestly, what would you advise?"

Dangerous.
"I am afraid that I have set you a bad example, Bobby."
"What will happen?"
"From the bad example?"
"Yes."
"You might hatch out some mischief from it."

Imitative.
"Where is your mother, children?"
"Woman's club."
"Well, then, where is your father?"
"Golf club."
"What are you children doing?"
"Clubbing the neighbor's cat and dog."

Ethical.
"Mamma, Johnnie is a naughty boy."
"Why?"
"He took my candy."
"Where did you get candy?"
"Took it away from the baby."

Take Notice.

All persons are recommended to take Foley's Kidney Pills for backache, rheumatism, and kidney and bladder trouble, as they are healing and antiseptic and correct urinary irregularities which, if neglected, may develop into a serious illness. They restore health and strength. Do not neglect signs of kidney or bladder trouble and risk Bright's disease or diabetes. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

The best remedy we know of in all cases of Kidney and Bladder trouble and the one we always can recommend, is DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are antiseptic and at once assist the kidneys to perform their important work. But when you ask for these pills be positive that you get DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. There are imitations placed upon sale to deceive you. Get DeWitt's. Insist upon them, and if your dealer cannot supply you refuse anything else in place of them. Sold by all Druggists.

Send us $1 and we will send you all the news in "The Republican" each week for one year.

POLEY'S HONEY AND TALK
Cures Colds, Prevents Pneumonia

Rheumatism

Do you want to get rid of it? If so, take Dr. Miles' Nervine modified as directed in pamphlet around bottle. In addition to the direct curative properties it has a soothing effect upon the nervous system by which the rheumatic pains are controlled, and rest and sleep assured. It has made many cures of this painful disease, some of them after years of suffering. If it will cure others why not you. If your case is complicated, write us for advice, it costs you nothing and may save you prolonged suffering.

"I was so crippled that I could scarcely walk. After having my shoes on for an hour or two I could manage to walk by suffering the pain. Then I began to have pains all through my system. My doctor told me I had an acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I read about Dr. Miles' Nervine, bought a bottle and I commenced to get better from the start and for the past six months have scarcely any pain, and am able to walk as well as ever."

J. H. SANDERS,
P. O. Box 1, Rockaway, N. J.
Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Nervine, and we authorize him to return price of first bottle (only) if it fails to benefit you.

Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery"—was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical authorities (doctors and writers on medicine) who have recommended them as the very best remedies for the diseases for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised.

A little book of these endorsements, which has been compiled by Dr. E. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompanied with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated, are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

For indigestion and all stomach trouble take Foley's Orino. Laxative as it stimulates the stomach and liver and regulates the bowels and will positively cure habitual constipation. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child. If there is feverishness, night fever, Harelin probably has Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in the boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggist giving you

Preventics

J. ZELLAR & SON.

EDW. K. RHOADS

At his yard opposite the F. & P. Passenger Station, sells only:

BEST QUALITIES

—OF—

ANTHRACITE

—AND—

BITUMINOUS

COALS

Also, All Kinds of

WOOD, GRAIN, HAY, STRAW

AND SAND.

Superior Screenings for Lime Burning, Builders and Plasterers' Sand.

Telephone Calls:

Beil 1312

Commercial 422

The Main Thing

About

FIRE INSURANCE

Is caring a sufficient amount to really protect your property—for after a fire one can only accept the result.

Better see to it that you are fully insured and in a company celebrated for prompt payment of losses; a good reliable company—the only kind represented by us.

Also represent The Preferred Ac id nt Insurance Company of New York, which issues $5,000 Travel Policy at $12.00 per year.

Harry E. Penlon,

Office in Temple Court

Bellefonte, Pa.

Real Estate Bought and Sold.

RENTS COLLECTED.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

TO

Atlantic City, Cape May

Anglesea, Wildwood, Holly Beach

Ocean City, Sea Isle City, Avalon

NEW JERSEY

Thursday, August 19, 1909

$6.00 Round Trip

Via Delaware River Bridge.

From BELLEFONTE

$5.75 Round Trip

Via Market Street Wharf

TICKETS GOOD RETURNING WITHIN TEN DAYS

NIGHT-TRIP ALLOWED AT PHILADELPHIA

For full information concerning leaving of trains, consult small hand bills, or nearest Ticket Agent.

J. M. WOOD,

Passenger Traffic Manager.

GEO. W. BOYD,

General Passenger Agent.

Bellefonte Republican.

Bellefonte, Pa., August 12, 1909.

CHARLES E. DORWORTH, - Ed., & Pub.
Subscription rate, $1 a year, strictly in advance.

The Republican and the New York Tribune Farmer, $1.50 a year in advance.

Advertising rates.
One Column, 1 year, ... $100
One-half Column, 1 year, ... 50
One-quarter Column, 1 year, ... 25
Legal Notices (if no special contract exists) 10 cents per line, each in ertion, nonpareil measure.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

State.

Supreme Court Justice,
JUDGE ROBERT VON MOSCHIZISER, of Phila.

Auditor General,
A. E. Sisson, of Erie.

State Treasurer,
J. A. SEIBER, of Lancaster.

County.

Jury Commissioner,
JOHN D. BRADLEY, of Potter Twp.

Vote For the School Loan.

One mistake does not justify another. A condition confronts the citizens of Bellefonte which they must meet at the polls, on Tuesday, next. We must have a school building at Allegheny and Linn Streets. If it were a mistake to create the condition existing today, it would be a greater mistake to continue that condition. A vote against the school loan is a vote to continue that condition.

Mr. Taft's Statement.

After signing the new Payne tariff bill President Taft issued a statement discussing that message. He frankly says that the bill is not perfect, that while it is not "a complete compliance with promises made, strictly interpreted," it is nevertheless, a "sincere effort on the part of the Republican party to make a downward revision and to comply with platform promises as they have been generally understood."

Some Democrats, especially those Democrats who are not manufacturers, are disappointed and dissatisfied with the Payne bill because it is not a free trade bill. President Taft very pointedly refers to this and pertinently adds that it was not intended to be a free trade measure.

Such increases in rates as were made, he points out, apply as a rule to luxuries. The decreases, he continues, "constitute a sufficient amount to justify the statement that this bill is a substantial downward revision, and a reduction of excessive rates."

Throughout the President's statement there is a tone of characteristic frankness that appeals to men, whether they be of one party or the other. It carries conviction that as President he was desirous of securing a tariff bill that would be for the best for all the people. Had he not been satisfied that the Payne bill was the best that could be had at this time we believe the President would have vetoed it. The fact that he signed it speaks for itself. The President's statement follows:

"I have signed the Payne tariff bill because I believe it to be the result of a sincere effort on the part of the Republican party to make a downward revision, and to comply with the promises of the platform as they have been generally understood, and as I interpreted them in the campaign before election.

"The bill is not a perfect tariff bill, or a complete compliance with the promises made, strictly interpreted, but a fulfillment free from criticism in respect to a subject matter involving many schedules and thousands of articles could not be expected. It suffices to say that except with regard to whisky, liquors and wines, and in regard to silks and as to some high classes of cottons—all of which may be treated as luxuries and proper subjects of a revenue tariff—there have been very few increases in rates.

"There have been a great number of real decreases in rates and they constitute a sufficient amount to justify the statement that this bill is a substantial downward revision, and a reduction of excessive rates.

"This is not a free trade bill. It was not intended to be. The Republican party did not promise to make a free trade bill.

"It promised to make the rates protective, but to reduce them when they exceeded the difference in cost of production abroad and here, making allowance for the greater normal profit on active investments here. I believe that while this excess has not been reduced in a number of cases, in a great majority, the rates are such as are necessary to protect American industries, but are low enough, in case of abnormal increase of demand, and raising of prices, to permit the possibility of the importation of the foreign article and thus to prevent excessive prices.

"The power granted to the executive under the maximum and minimum clause may be exercised to secure the removal of obstacles which have been interposed by foreign government in the way of undue and unfair discrimination against American merchandise and products.

"The Philippine tariff section I have struggled to secure for ten years last past, and it gratifies me exceedingly by my signature to give it the effect of law. I am sure it will greatly increase the trade between the two countries, and it will do much to build up the Philippine in a healthful prosperity.

"The administrative clauses of the bill and the customs court are admirably adapted to secure a more uniform and a more speedy final construction of the meaning of the law.

"The authority to the President to use agents to assist him in the application of the maximum and minimum section of the statute and to enable officials to administer the law, gives a wide latitude for the acquisition, under circumstances favorable to its truth, of information in respect to the price and cost of production of goods at home and abroad, which will throw much light on the operation of the present tariff, and be of primary importance as officially collected data upon which future executive action and executive recommendations may be based.

"The corporation tax is a just and equitable exercise measure, which it is hoped will produce a sufficient amount to prevent a deficit and which incidentally will secure valuable statistics and information concerning the many corporations of the country, and will constitute an important step that degree of publicity and regulation which the tendency in corporate enterprises in the last twenty years has shown to be necessary."

Bleeding Mr. Kipp.

When Colonel Guffey was casting about for men to put on his ticket, at the Democratic State convention, last week, he kept one eye open for a man with a barrel who could be made useful as well as ornamental during the campaign. He put a pin in the name of former Congressman George W. Kipp, of Bradford county, and settled back with visions of a large hole in Mr. Kipp's barrel.

Owing to Republican factional troubles in that congressional district several years ago Mr. Kipp was elected to Congress. With no Republican disaffection in the State he knows the hopelessness of being on the Democratic ticket this year for any State office. When he found himself marked up on Colonel Guffey's slate for State Treasurer he naturally and very sensibly asked himself why he was wanted since he had no chance for election.

Matters were in this shape when the big wind struck Harrisburg last week. With both eyes on his barrel Mr. Kipp was anything but anxious. As a hint to Guffey he let it be known that he preferred to keep his barrel intact. P. Gray Meek, secretary of the Democratic State Committee and the day-and-night friend of Guffey, called Mr. Kipp on the telephone.

As to what followed we quote from the Philadelphia "Record", which, being a Democratic organ, may be accepted as accurately reporting the proceedings of a Democratic convention. Listen to the "Record's" report of the telephone conversation between Mr. Kipp and Mr. Meek:

"But I don't want the office," said Kipp.

"We know you don't," Meek replied, "but the Democrats propose to nominate you, whether you want it or not."

Kipp quickly asked: "Does the committee want to bleed me?"

It had been announced that Kipp's reason for refusing to run was that he did not desire to tour the counties and spend from $20,000 to $25,000. He is a banker, has large lumber interests and has acquired a fortune as an able and honorable business man.

Nevertheless, Mr. Kipp was nominated, and it is reasonably safe to assume will accept a place on the Guffey ticket. He is a banker, has a large fortune and apparently wants to keep it. Having gone into the game with his eyes wide open to the fact that his barrel is to be tapped it will be interesting to note with what success he meets in keeping in the bung.

According to the "Record", Mr. Kipp was reluctant to go on the ticket because he didn't want to put up from $20,000 to $25,000 for campaign expenses. This would naturally raise the question as to what sort of campaign the Democrats expect to run if each of three candidates expects to be "bled", to use Mr. Kipp's language, to the tune of $25,000. This is an off year when strenuous campaigning is seldom employed. Is it possible the Guffey managers are starting already to amass a campaign fund for next year's contest, when a Governor and members of Congress and the State Legislature are to be elected?

The steam roller had to be used in making Mr. Kipp get on the ticket. It may have to be used to break into his barrel. It was used very effectively in smothering a resolution offered by Daniel Nolton, of Armstrong county, suggesting that the Democratic party, under Guffey's management, go into bankruptcy and make an assignment in favor of "Charlie" Donnelly, at the Philadelphia end, and "Billy" Brennan, in Pittsburgh. The resolution was smothered but this does not change Mr. Nolton's opinion of the management of his party.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following unclaimed letters, for the week ending Aug. 7, are at the Bellefonte Post Office.

Mrs. Chas. S. Beck, Jno. H. Fultz, Mrs. D. J. McIlhatten, S. C. Peighal, Miss Veronice Sellers, D. W. Wary, Persons calling for unclaimed letters should explain that the same have been advertised.

—Try Admiral Coffee.

COUNTRY CLUB WILL REBUILD AT HECLA

New Structure Will be of Brick and Cost About $12,000.

GETS DEED FOR LAND

Lawrence McMullen Presents Same to Club and Will Devote $5000 Insurance to Mortgage on New Building—Tent Temporary Quarters.

The Country Club, at Hecla Park, destroyed by fire last Wednesday night, is to be rebuilt. This was formally decided upon at a meeting of the members of the club, held at the Bush House, last Saturday. The new clubhouse will cost, it is estimated, upward of $12,000.

The design of the new clubhouse will follow the lines of the old one as closely as possible. The new building, however, will be constructed of brick, and there will be a number of changes in the arrangement of the second floor, to make provision for bathrooms, etc. L. T. Munson, George R. Meek and W. Harrison Walker constitute the committee delegated to receive bids for the new clubhouse. It is possible that a large tent will be erected at Hecla to serve as an improvised clubhouse during the next five or six weeks.

Lawrence McMullen has deeded to the club the ground on which the former building stood and which will be the site of the new clubhouse. He also has volunteered to devote $5000, which he had in insurance on the burned building, toward a mortgage on the new building. The club had $3000 insurance on its personal property. There also was $1000 insurance on boilers, etc. Until the insurance adjusters complete their inventory the club members will not be able to determine with any certainty just how much insurance they will receive. It is expected, however, that the insurance awards will not fall much, if any, below the amounts specified in the several policies.

So far as the origin of the fire is concerned the members of the club know little or nothing about it. They doubt that it was caused by defective electric light wires, explaining that for thirty or forty hours before the fire was discovered there had been no current in the wires in that part of the building. The clubhouse had been recently equipped with a complete new electrical plant. The wiring had been approved by State department officials, from Harrisburg, but a few weeks ago. It is the judgment of some members of the club that the fire was caused by a spark from the kitchen chimney or by matches in the hands of children. Just how it was started is, however, a mystery.

To Decide School Loan.

(Continued from first page.)

building would have been unsafe. It was below the level of the street and to have made it look even respectable it would have been necessary to raise it. To get in light, windows would of necessity have had to be cut in the side walls. By the time all this had been done the cost would have covered at least half of a new building and the district would not have had what was needed.

3. Would it now be wise to reject the loan? Surely it would be the most unwise thing we could now do. The board would of course be obliged to provide room for the accommodation of at least three hundred school children. These rooms, not having been intended for school rooms, would not have any ventilation, most likely very poor light and none of the other conveniences needed about a school room. The rent bill would more than pay the interest on the amount of the proposed loan.

The new building is now well under way and unless something unforeseen should happen will be completed by coming Thanksgiving day. It will meet every demand, add much to the health and happiness of the children of the town, and their educational advantages will be vastly increased and greatly improved.

An adverse vote would delay the building for a whole year; require, as stated, the renting of rooms, retard the schools and work injury to the educational advantages of the whole community. Of course there are some individuals in town who would rejoice in such a situation, but surely the people, who depend upon the public schools for the education of their children, will not lend aid or support to such a proposition. Believing, therefore, that the voters of the town value the education of their children greatly above the few pennies of additional tax they may have to pay for school purposes, I believe the people of the borough will grant the loan.

Respectfully,
D. F. FORTNEY.

Reforestation.

In March and April the students of the Pennsylvania State Forest Academy planted on the South Mountain Reserve 225,000 coniferous and hardwood seedling trees.

Pure Olive Oil for medicinal use—Get it at GREEN'S.

Is Pe-ru-na Useful for Catarrh?

Should a list of the ingredients of Peru-na be submitted to any medical expert, of whatever school or nationality, he would be obliged to admit without reserve that each one of them was of undoubted value in chronic catarrhal diseases and had stood the test of many years' experience in the treatment of such diseases. THERE CAN BE NO DISPUTE ABOUT THIS WHAT-EVER. Peru-na is composed of the most efficacious and universally used herbal remedies for catarrh. Every ingredient of Peru-na has a reputation of its own in the cure of some phase of catarrh.

Peru-na brings to the home the GILDED KNOWLEDGE OF SEVERAL SCHOOLS OF MEDICINE in the treatment of catarrhal diseases; brings to the home the scientific skill and knowledge of the modern pharmacist; and last but not least, brings to the home the vast and varied experience of Dr. Hartman, in the use of catarrhal remedies, and in the treatment of catarrhal diseases.

The fact is, chronic catarrh is a disease which is very prevalent. Many thousand people know they have chronic catarrh. They have visited doctors over and over again, and been told that their case is one of chronic catarrh. It may be of the nose, throat, lungs, stomach or some other internal organ. There is no doubt as to the nature of the disease. The only trouble is the remedy. This doctor has tried to cure them. That doctor has tried to prescribe for them.

BUT THEY ALL FAILED TO BRING ANY RELIEF.

Dr. Hartman's idea is that a catarrh remedy can be made on a large scale, as he is making it; that it can be made honestly, of the purest drugs and of the strictest uniformity. His idea is that this remedy can be supplied directly to the people, and no more be charged for it than is necessary for the handling of it.

No other household remedy so universally advertised carries upon the label the principal active constituents, showing that Peru-na invites the full inspection of the critics.

DALE REUNION

Interesting Event at Oak Hall is Largely Attended.

An event of more than ordinary interest took place at the village of Oak Hall, this county, on Saturday of last week, it being the fourth annual reunion of the Dale family. These annual occurrences are always looked forward to with increasing pleasure and the meeting of Saturday last equalled, if it did not surpass in many of its features, all former gatherings of a like nature. There were gathered four generations of the Dale family; not only those of the Dale family but the neighbors and friends from far and near, gathered to do honor to the occasion.

Promptly at the appointed hour George Dale, president of the association, called the meeting to order at which time the large hall in which the meetings were held was filled with persons desirous of hearing every thing that was said. Several inspiring pieces of music were rendered and Rev. J. I. Stonecypher invoked the divine blessing. Willard Dale in a neat and humorous speech extended a hearty welcome to all, which address was responded to by Rev. Stonecypher, who has been a regular attendant at these reunions. He spoke not only for himself but for all of the pleasure it afforded him at being permitted to be present.

Music, impromptu addresses and recitations by the young people occupied the time until the dinner hour was announced, when all repaired to a grove nearby where a bountiful dinner had been provided. An hour or more was spent around the table and in social converse.

At 2 o'clock the meeting re-convened. The historian of the association, Clement Dale, after dwelling briefly on the first, second and third generations of the Dale family, gave a pretty thorough history of the fourth generation, as he remembered them, giving a statement of the many numbered among the fourth generation who have died. He recounted the characteristics of the men of that generation and what part they took in the social and educational interests of their immediate locality. Sarah C. Dale recited an excellent poem applicable to the occasion, followed by a song by the family of Philip S. Dale.

Mrs. Clement Dale read an excellent paper on the benefits of family reunions, going back to first principles, pointing out that the home is the foundation of society and of good government and that without well regulated homes society will become corrupt and government will fail. The article read by Mrs. Dale was listened to with the closest attention from beginning to the end. It was one of the most interesting and instructive features of the day.

An opportunity was given to the visitors to extend their appreciation of the exercises of the day. Prompt and earnest remarks were made by Dr. Kidder, D. C. Grove, H. B. Zimmerman, Amos Tyson, George W. Schone, William J. Dale and Mrs. Sophia Hall. John S. Dale, the efficient secretary of the association, had a book prepared and at his suggestion all persons present were requested to enroll themselves, either as members of the association or as visitors. The list will be carefully kept for future reference.

Thus the day passed pleasantly until the hour for adjournment, when the audience separated, each and every one voted the fourth reunion of the Dale family a grand success.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Mrs. J. Thomas Mitchell has been ill for several days.

Mrs. J. L. Spangler entertained at cards, on Monday evening.

Miss Anna Bilger, of Lancaster, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. W. Rees.

Mrs. Louisa Frick, of Blandburg, Pa., is visiting at the home of Herman Holz.

Mrs. Maria Reeser and grandson, Gilbert Hunter, spent Sunday at Snow Shoe.

Mrs. A. O. Furst returned, Monday from a trip to the mountains, near Canton, Pa.

Mrs. Bella Fleming departed, Wednesday, to spend a few days with friends, at Tyrone.

Miss Jennie Harper arrived home last night, after a six weeks' visit to Glenburn and Lewisburg.

John Sourbeck, Jr., and family, are enjoying a little vacation at Benjamin Gardner's, near Mill Hall.

Miss Ethel Brownwell, of Williamsport, is spending a few days in town, as the guest of Miss Ella Jones.

Dr. H. M. Hiller, of Chester, is visiting Mrs. Hiller and the children at the Wilson home, on High street.

Mrs. Martha Keller and daughter, Miss Lucy, of Philadelphia, are guests at the Keller home, on Linn Street.

Professor William Frear and Charles Foster, of State College, were in town, on Tuesday. Business, supposedly, called them here, but as things turned out they were real, live fans at the base ball game.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLaughlin, of Freehold, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moerschbacher.

Dave Murray, of Lock Haven, is in charge of the Western Union Telegraph office, while Mr. Moore is on his vacation.

Charles Miller, son of John C. Miller, editor of the Barnesboro "Star" and the Patton "Courier," is visiting friends in town.

Miss Irene Kootz ran a rusty nail in her foot, Tuesday morning. The injury, while quite painful, has been attended with no serious results.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Llewellyn and daughter, Miss Goldie, of Shamokin, are spending a few days at the home of Rev. Thomas S. Wilcox. Miss Julia Paine, of Williamsport, is also a guest at the Wilcox home.

Mrs. Lawrence O'Leary, who has been visiting friends in Bellefonte for some time past, has returned to her home, at Jersey City, N. J. She was accompanied by Miss Cora Shaw, of this place, who will be her guest for a short time.

Firemen's Convention Train.

On account of the Firemen's Convention at Jersey Shore, August 19 and 20, the Central R. R. of Penn'a. has arranged to run a through train to Jersey Shore, leaving Bellefonte at 2.20 p. m. Thursday, August 19, and returning, leave Jersey Shore about 8.00 p. m. Friday, August 20th, arriving at Bellefonte at 9.40. Fare for the round trip $1.52. On this occasion the game of base ball between the Bellefonte and Jersey Shore teams will be postponed until 4.00 p. m. August 19th, thus giving an opportunity to those going on above train to see the game.

= LIME =

High Grade commercial lime. Agricultural Lime. Hydra Oxide (H-O) Hydrated lime. Ground lime for agricultural purposes. Crushed limestone for concrete work. Graded limestone for road making.

Works at Bellefonte, Tyrone, Union Furnace and Frankstown, Pa.

PROMPT SHIPMENTS.

Address all communications and orders to:

American Lime & Stone Company,
TYRONE, PENNA.

Pennsylvania Railroad

ELEVEN-DAY EXCURSION

TO

Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Asbury Park or Long Branch

FRIDAY, AUGUST 27, 1909

Round $5.75 Trip

FROM BELLEFONTE

Tickets good going only on train leaving 6.35 A. M.

Good returning on all regular trains.

Covers Closing Sunday and Monday of Camp Meeting

Consult nearest Ticket Agents

J. R. WOOD,
Passenger Traffic Manager.

GEO. W. BOYD,
General Passenger Agent.

Bellefonte Trust Company.

CAPITAL, $125,000.00 - - - - - SURPLUS, $30,000.00

Call and examine our Savings Department.

Acts as Executor, Administrator, Guardian, Trustee and Assignee.

OFFICERS

J. L. Spangler, ... President.
John P. Harris, ... Treasurer.
Ross A. Hickok, ... Vice President.
Isaac Mitchell, Asst. Treas. & Sec'y.

DIRECTORS

J. L. Spangler, ...
C. T. Gerberich, ...
J. Henry Cochran, ...
Ross A. Hickok, ...
A. C. Mingle, ...
Claude Cook, ...
John P. Harris, ...

Our County at a Glance.

Howard.

Mrs. Comerford's piano class will give a musical in the Catholic church, at the Laith homestead, this Thursday, evening at 7:30 o'clock. This class has been under Mrs. Comerford's instruction for several seasons, have become quite accomplished musicians and will without a doubt give an excellent entertainment. Mrs. Comerford will be assisted by her sister, Mrs. Cameron Burnside, of Bellefonte, who will recite several of her beautiful selections. Those who attend the musical will be accorded a rare treat.

Mrs. Charles McMurtrie, wife of Landlord McMurtrie, of the Hotel Howard, returned from the Lock Haven hospital, last Thursday, somewhat improved in health.

Ira C. Johnson spent a few days last week in Philadelphia visiting his daughter, Mrs. Fannie Aikens.

Col. John A. Daley, of Curtin township, Ralph Schenck and Franklin Confer, of Howard township, and Wm. Jacobs, of Liberty township, boarded the train here last Thursday for Bellefonte, where they attended the Supervisors' convention called at the instance of the Bellefonte Motor Club. While there they listened to some interesting addresses on road improvements, were banqueted and enjoyed the hospitality of the Bellefonte motorists in a cross country automobile ride. They all appeared to be much pleased with the convention and entertainment accorded them.

John Moke was in Logantown last week, where he set up a monument in one of the cemeteries.

J. B. Wetzel and C. C. Cooke, who have been operating a lumber job for some time under the firm name of the Howard Lumber company, have dissolved partnership by mutual consent. Mr. Wetzel purchasing Mr. Cooke's interests in the same. The mill had been idle for some time but has again been put in operation with Irvin Wagner, of Eagleville, in charge as sawyer.

Harry McMurtrie, of Philadelphia, is visiting his brother, Charles, at the Hotel Howard.

M. I. Gardner, of Bellefonte, was a visitor in Howard, on Wednesday.

Col. H. S. Taylor and Robert F. Hunter, of Bellefonte, greeted their many friends in Howard last Tuesday.

F. A. Fletcher is laying a concrete pavement in front of his residence, on Main Street. Other new sidewalks will be forthcoming owing to orders issued at the last regular meeting of Council.

A number of the members of the Reformed church attended the picnic of that denomination, at Hecla park, last Thursday.

The Empire Iron Works last week turned out another of its rebuilt traction engines to a party at Milesburg.

A party from Unionville has purchased the saw mill from Harry Miller, on Marsh Creek, and will continue to operate the same to its fullest capacity.

Mrs. L. C. Thompson and son, Chester, and Mrs. Ethel Resler were Bellefonte visitors, on Thursday.

Last Thursday evening our citizens were treated to an open air lecture which was illustrated with stereoscopic views on the subject, "The Wayward Boy". An unusually large crowd turned out and the service was very interesting as well as instructive.

Last Friday Frank Bennett, one of the men on the "floating" gang of the P. R. R. met with a painful accident in a starting way. He was in the act of singular a spike into a tie when a blow from his hammer caused it to fly upward and strike him on the forehead.

James A. B. Miller, of Bellefonte, transacted legal business in town, on Friday.

Mrs. Watson Lucas, of Crayland, Pa., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Emenhizer.

On Friday last the stork delivered a baby boy to Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Randall, of Portland, Me., who are visiting at the home of Mrs. Randall's parents, Mr. W. E. Confer and wife. Congratulations.

A. W. Gardner has disposed of two of his properties to W. H. Thompson.

Jas. D. Diehl returned on Friday from a business trip to Elmira, N. Y.

Charles Confer is adding to his home by the erection of a porch.

Mr. Schell, of Tyrone, is working third track at the tower for I. D. Jordan, while the latter is on his vacation, at Atlantic City.

The Howard Cornet band gave another concert Friday evening when the following excellent program was rendered: "Glorious Flag" march, Rosekranz "Midland" overture, Southwell "Down in Jungletown" March-two-step Morris, "A Fairy Tale" caprice, Dalby "The Favorite" March, McFall "Idle Thought" waltz, Menges "Inspiration" overture, Hayes "My Tuba Solo" Southwell "Nugget Nell" overture, Southwell "Easy Street" March, Seitz "America" "Star Spangled Banner."

The annual festival of the band was held on the school house lawn, Saturday evening. The evening was a most auspicious one for such an event and the attendance was large. The receipts were about $70 and the boys will clear something over $40. This will be used in bettering the equipment of the band.

Harry Wolfe, of Wilmerding, visited Howard friends last week.

Mr. and F. L. Wetzel and daughter, Ruth, and Grace Schenck, all of Milesburg, drove to Howard last Sunday and were guests of J. H. Schenck and wife.

Mrs. J. Z. Loder visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Shilling, in Bellefonte, Saturday and Sunday.

Eugene Fletcher left, on Sunday, for Philadelphia, after spending his vacation with his parents.

Rev. George M. Glenn, of Sunbury, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church, Sunday morning, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Taylor.

Prof. George Robb, wife and son, of Altoona, were visitors at the home of Samuel Kline last week.

J. L. Holter and wife entertained over Sunday Mrs. J. C. Kaup, son, Clark and two daughters Florence and Naomi, and Mrs. Harry E. Kaup and son, Earle, all of Pittsburg, and Anna and Virgie Kaup, of State College. Their two daughters, Anna and Nellie Holter, who have been sewing in Pittsburg during the season, are also home for their vacation.

George Richards and wife, of Swissvale, visited friends in Howard.

J. Z. Loder has been awarded the contract for cleaning the school house and getting the same in shape for the opening of the schools.

The Howard boys played at Beech Creek last Saturday, defeating the brick makers, 5-2, in a ten inning game. Both teams played good ball.

Owing to the illness of some of the boys, the group from State College, who had been camping here, returned home Sunday evening.

Theophilus Fletcher, one of the township's most respected citizens, who has been ill for some time, does not show much improvement and his friends are apprehensive lest his trouble develop into a more serious complication.

Mt. Eagle.

Frank Derg and family and a number of young folks were out in the Allegheny mountains picking huckleberries a few days ago. They got quite a lot, as did also Thomas Lucas and a party of friends who were out about the same time.

Clarence Leathers, who had been away from Mt. Eagle for some time past, is home again, accompanied by Allison Leathers.

Mrs. Minnie Barger, of Howard, spent a day recently with her sister, Mrs. Ward Daughenbaugh. Visitors to the Daughenbaugh home always have a good time.

H. E. Leathers has a nice carload of hickory and oak.

John Bower and wife and daughter, of Altoona, are visiting with Grandma Leathers. John is looking after things on the farm.

Miss Maud Deitz and her friend, Miss Edmiston, visited in Howard, on Monday.

Four or five of the Mt. Eagle girls recently took a "hike" about two miles above Curtin's Works, to spend the afternoon with their friend, Miss Estella Barger.

Jacob Confer, tenant farmer on the W. T. Leathers' farm across the creek, threshed his crops and from a twelve acre field he got 126 bushels of wheat.

Mr. Deitz, our hustling huckster, met with an accident a day or two ago which might have resulted more seriously. He was on his way to Howard with a load of produce, when the axle slipped off the wagon tongue. The horses frightened and started to run away. Fortunately Mr. Deitz was able to stop them before they got much of a start.

Joshua R. Pheasant, an old soldier who was spending some time with his two daughters, at Altoona, is home again and reports having had a delightful visit.

Farmers are busy cutting oats but it is not a very good crop, hereabouts. On account of the drought the early potato crop in this vicinity will not be very large.

Mrs. Foster Butz is very poorly at this writing.

Mrs. Joshua Pheasant went to Howard a few days ago to see Mrs. Charles McMurtrie, who was operated on recently at the Lock Haven hospital and is recovering as rapidly as could be expected.

Freight traffic on the Bald Eagle branch seems to be booming these days, between 600 and 700 cars passing Mt. Eagle each day.

William Bitner departed, Monday, for Chatman's Run, called there by the illness of an uncle whom he has not seen for a number of years.

Rev. Mr. Thompson preached, Sunday, in the Mt. Eagle church. He is a very interesting talker.

T. B. Bndinger, of Snow Shoe, was here a day or two ago, visiting at the home of his father-in-law, S. B. Leathers. He drives a fine auto.

Jacob Sence, of Williamsport, and Mrs. Belle Sence, of Eagleville, a daughter of Mr. Leathers, are so at the Leathers home. Mrs. Sence looks the picture of health.

Samuel Shay, of Howard, spent Sunday at Mt. Eagle with his son, Jacob Shay. He brought his youngest son along.

Some of our young folks took in the band festival at Howard, on Saturday night.

Runville.

Hello, Snow Shoe! Here is the Runville scribe, ready for work. Have you been lonely without me, Peggy? Thank you, for your kindness, but I do not need "any" help; also I have not been asleep like some of the Snow Shoe "knockers," dreaming of my friend's business. The Runville scribe attends to his own affairs, like more people should do in this world.

A festival will be held on the school house lawn, August 21. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Sarah Walker, of Austin, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Poorman.

Willis Heaton and Miss Flora Dozer, of Altoona, are guests of Forden Walker.

Ether Hamilton has returned home after a pleasant visit with her aunt, Mrs. Harry Orr, of 1320 Bald Eagle Ave., Tyrone.

Mrs. Clara Iddings of Wingate, is the guest of her friends, Mrs. James Lucas.

Myra Lucas, who is employed in Bellefonte, spent Sunday at home.

Those on the sick list are Mrs. Willis Poorman and Mrs. Clayton Walker.

Mrs. Anna Crook and little daughter, Bertha, of Snow Shoe, are visiting at the Willis Poorman home.

Tacy Lucas has returned home after a pleasant visit with relatives and friends in Altoona.

Prof. J. P. Miller, of Indiana County, is to be the efficient teacher for our winter term of school.

Wanted: The farmers of Runville wish to employ a young man about the size of the "Snow Shoe scribe, Peggy" to help them thresh oats and pumpkins.

State College.

Miss Carrie Bowers left last week for St. Louis, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Calvin H. Beck.

Mrs. Henry W. Saners is visiting friends and relatives at Philipsburg.

Verna Smith is visiting one of her old chums, Mrs. Edgar Dysner, at Washington, D. C.

Among our State College visitors to Atlantic City are J. C. Shreffler and wife, J. H. Holmes and wife, and Helen Levensgood, Harry Strable and wife.

L. D. Fye, one of our progressive merchants, sprained his ankle last Saturday while trying to board a Bellefonte Central train.

Margaret Haney has returned to her home, at Smiltion, for the summer.

Mrs. Mildred Fowler and little son are visiting her father, Samuel Garner, on Beaver Avenue.

Robert Johnstonbaugh, who was helping the bricklayers on the new First National Bank building, fell and fractured his collar bone. Dr. W. S. Glenn gave him prompt attention.

W. C. Kline and wife, and E. S. Erb and wife, were campers at Curtins last week. Cal. landed some fine specimens of bass.

H. A. Pearce and James Colburn have returned to their homes, a Latrobe, after spending the summer here.

J. P. Welsh is at Harrisburg, on business.

Talk is anything but cheap when you have to pay 50¢ a minute for the use of a long distance telephone.

Two full moons this month ought to make August fine for picnics.

If wishes were horses we would all want flying machines.

The Hic-to-Ka-Tribe of I. O. R. M. No. 481, will hold a festival on Saturday, Aug. 14th.

Wm. S. Glenn, Jr., is visiting in Harrisburg and York.

Roy Hoffa, of Philadelphia, is the guest of Walter Atkinson, on Frazer Street.

Saturday will be a big day for State College. There will be a concert all day by the famous State College band. Turn out and hear the music.

Mrs. Klepper and son, of Philadelphia, are guests of Philip D. Foster and wife, on College Avenue.

Harold Foster is visiting friends and relatives in New York City.

Harry and Wilbur Leitzell and their families have returned from their vacation, which was spent at Scottsdale.

A jolly party spent Sunday at the Nittany Inn. They included Misses Salmon and Shoemaker, of Lock Haven; Miss Gould, of Friendship, N. Y.; Miss Hanky, of Leeburg; Miss Colwell, of Kittanning and Miss Winegar, of Buffalo, N. Y.

Fidler

John Grenoble, wife and daughter, of Yeagerstown, visited at F. P. Guisevites and Charlie Smith's.

Mrs. Pierce Amiller, of Swingle, is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Warren Smith.

Lida Winkleblech and Chestie Stover spent Sunday with friends at Smithtown.

John Musser had an experience last week that he will not forget very soon. After cutting his timothy seed with the binder, he decided to burn a patch of Canada thistles, which was at the same place. Everything being extremely dry the fire soon spread at a great rate. John went to the barn near by, to get out a team to plow around the fire. Before he got this done the fire had spread into the oats field and close to the barn where the binder was standing. The binder was completely ruined and but for the timely assistance of others the barn also would have been destroyed.

Wm. Winkleblech and family, of Pine Creek, spent Sunday afternoon at the home of H. S. Winkleblech.

James Stover, while cutting wood for Luther Weaver, had the misfortune to cut off his thumb.

Minnie Davis, of Georges valley, is spending some time at the home of Thos. Shull.

Wm. Vonada and family spent a few days visiting relatives in Union County.

Katie Stover accompanied by Edna and Ardenna Winkleblech, spent Sunday at B. F. Stover's, at Aaronsburg.

Arch Whitmyer and family spent Sunday with relatives in Brush Valley.

Zion.

Charles Bilger is busy with his sawmill. He is in Marion township, 44 miles east of Bellefonte on the McCafferty tract. Thomas Beaver's team are hauling the lumber to Bellefonte, to the new school house. It is fine lumber.

Johnston Condo is threshing these days, and is doing good work. The oats is a poor crop and the wheat is fair. The farmers are very busy with the oats.

Mrs. Nelson Shope has been sick, but is getting along very nicely, now. They are living on the Peter Menton farm, in Marion township.

Harry W. Bartley, a son of James A. Bartley, of Marion township, is enjoying a well earned vacation at home.

Harry has been located in Chicago for the last two years, where he is engaged in the restaurant business. He will return to Chicago in a few weeks. Harry is a fine young man.

Pine Glenn.

The festival was well attended on Friday night, the proceeds amounted to $21 of which one half will be for the benefit of the baseball team. The remainder will be used for the new festival house.

J. B. Askey, of Hicks Run, was a pleasant visitor at home last week.

Van Meeker made a business trip to Philipsburg, last week.

Charles Maloney and Charles Smith, of Westport, were pleasant visitors at the Loy home for a few days, last week.

Mrs. W. J. Long and little daughter, Dorothy, of Donora, Pa., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Long's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Askey.

Curtin Askey made a flying trip to Clearfield and Bellefonte, last week.

Mrs. E. D. Cotter, of Olympia Wash., was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Jefferson Force, last week. She also visited other friends and relatives.

Ethel Medith spent Sunday at her home in Moshannon.

A number of Moshannon boys attended our festival, on Friday night.

Our baseball team crossed bats with the Karthaus team, on the home grounds, on Saturday. The score was 21-13 in favor of our team. Hurrah for Pine Glenn.

Miss Laura and Iona Askey and brother of Philipsburg, returned home, on Saturday after a pleasant visit at the Askey home here.

Grayce Vallimont was on the sick list a few days last week.

Miss Sallie Mariette and Miss Lovette, of Renovo, and Mrs. W. L. Smith of Karthaus, attended the festival, on Friday night.

Owing to sickness Rev. Medith couldn't fill his appointment, on Saturday, in the advent church.

M. Ellen Loy spent Sunday with friends in Kewadim.

Mt. Pleasant

Cyrus Tice, of Philadelphia, Sundayed with his family, who are visiting Mrs. Tice's parents, John Shively and wife.

Mrs. Eliza Henderson, wife of the late Robert Henderson, of Ramey, visited relatives and friends here a few days recently.

Harvey Baney and wife, and two daughters, Gladys and Hazel, of Krebs, surprised Harvey's parents by coming home, Saturday, on a short visit.

Robert Orwick and wife, Mrs. P. S. Richards, Jennie McCoy, Martin Kline and wife, and daughter, Ira Nearhood, Isaac Fink and John Shively were Tyrone visitors last week.

Jennie Kline is spending her vacation with her brothers here.

Rev. M. H. Ake, pastor of the M. E. Church, of Port Matilda, was calling from house to house in our community last week. Call again.

Thomas Richards, attended church at Bald Eagle, Sunday. Wonder what the attraction is up that way, Tom.

Mrs. Jacob Walk and infant son, of Osceola, is spending a few weeks with her brothers and sisters here. Mrs. Walk will be remembered among us as Miss Lydia Weaver.

Mrs. B. F. Fink was a Tyrone shopper, Friday.

The P. O. S. of A. lodge which was lately organized at this place is prospering, having received three new members Saturday night. They now have a total of 38 members.

Hello Fowler! Where have you been so long. Wake up, and let us hear from you.

Milesburg

Clarence Flick, of Altoona, Sundayed in the burg.

Prof. James Gregg, of Tyrone, and Mrs. Anna Edmonson, of State College, are guests of the Gregg sisters.

Miss Julia Gregg is visiting relatives in Lewisburg.

Miss Maria Confer, of Snow Shoe, visited the burg last week.

Miss Marcella Boggs, and Lenore Potter spent Thursday of last week, with friends in Bellefonte.

Albert Bierly met with a bad accident while working in his shop on Friday, cutting his leg with a foot as he was using. Dr. S. M. Huff took him to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment.

Mrs. F. L. Shook, of Philadelphia, is a guest of Harry Austin and family.

A pleasing and instructive entertainment for young and old was given on the lawn in front of the Baptist church, on last Friday night. Magnificent photographic views were shown upon a large canvas. George L. Only, of New York City delivered his famous illustrated lecture, "The Wayward Boy," showing country and city scenes, views of all kinds, hospital scenes, the wide, wide world prison and its workings; released and the journey to the old homestead mother and God.

Blanchard

Mrs. C. A. Williams and husband were visitors in Salona, on Sunday.

Porter Kunes and wife, and Daniel Kunes and wife spent Sunday with Charlie Graham at the Shank farm up Beech Creek.

George Lingle and wife returned from Panama last week, to spend their vacation with his parents and friends in Blanchard and elsewhere.

Mrs. Nestlerode, of Charleroi, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Martin, for a few weeks, returned to her home on Wednesday.

Edgar Shaw and sons, of Jersey Shore, were visitors in Blanchard on Friday.

Warry Packer and little daughters took a flying visit to Tyrone, last Friday.

Tyler Trevel and wife, of Hayes Run, spent Sunday with Mrs. Trevel's mother, Mrs. Beatty.

Social Pleasures

theatres, late suppers, dances, etc., often mean nervous headaches the next day.

We sell many good headache cures. It's not hard to find a remedy for a headache, but often the remedy is worse than the malady. Many cures contain dangerous drugs that cause harmful after effects.

We heartily recommend Rexall Headache Wafers because we know their formula and guarantee them absolutely free from antipyrin, opium, morphine or chloral. They are a simple and positive cure for headaches and neuralgia—quickly kill the pain and soothe the nerves. Perfectly suited to women. Sold with the Rexall guarantee. Two sizes—Four Wafers, 10c.—Twelve Wafers, 25c.

Green's Pharmacy Co.,

The Rexall Store.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Mrs. D. M. Burlien, who has been spending the past two weeks at Johnsonburgh, returned home last Friday. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Kunes, of Keesport.

Nathan Kunes and wife have returned from Virginia and settled down for a time in their cozy home, which they are certainly enjoying this hot weather.

Scotia

Mrs. Maude Douglass is visiting her mother in Gatesburg for a few days.

Minnie Gill, of Martha Furnace, is visiting friends here.

Miss Ruth Farber is spending her vacation in Graysville, with her aunt.

J. W. Lytle and Frank Fields spent Sunday with their families here. They are both working at Tyrone.

Minnie Hassinger and Bessie Williams, of State College, are here for a few days.

William Varnell, of Bellefonte, was seen driving through here on Sunday.

After being a resident of Scotia 28 years, John Haugh will have public sale on the 13, of this month and will move to Chicago.

The residents of this little village are rejoicing over what they read in the Bellefonte "Republican" last week that it would only be a short time till the mines would start. They have been idle since February.

Waddle and Fillmore played a game of base ball here on Saturday. The score was 13-4, in favor of Fillmore. Andy, you will have to do better, or you will not be able to pitch for Pittsburg next year.

Chestnut Grove

There will be a Sunday school convention held at this place, on Thursday, Aug. 19. We extend a cordial invitation to all, promising them an opportunity to enjoy a day in the grove where there is excellent shade and plenty of good mountain water. The exercises will be held out in the grove.

A series of interesting meetings will follow the convention. These will start on Friday evening, Aug. 20, and will continue over Sunday. All are invited to attend these services.

Nothing could be more restful than a day in the grove. Come and enjoy it with us.

(Continued on sixth Page.)

FOR GOOD ROADS

Association Formed at Convention of County Supervisors.

The "Centre County Good Roads Association" was formed last Thursday at a meeting held at the Court House. Upward of sixty Centre County road supervisors attended the good roads convention, which was held under the auspices of the Bellefonte Motor Club. The road supervisors constitute the charter members of the association.

A feature of the convention was the presence of State Highway Commissioner Joseph W. Hunter, who advanced numerous suggestions for road-building. At the noon recess the supervisors and a number of others were guests at a dinner at the Brockhoff House.

The morning meeting was called to order at 10.30 o'clock, by J. Calvin Meyer, who, in a few well chosen words, introduced General Beaver as the first speaker. General Beaver pointed out the necessity for road improvements and stated that Centre County had the best opportunity to have good roads, since most of its roads were built on solid ledges of limestone. General Beaver wound up a rattling speech by cautioning all to observe the law of the road, namely to drive to the right.

State highway Commissioner Hunter was the next speaker. The most important thought he advanced was this: "Fill up all ruts with fresh clay; not stones. Be sure that your foundation is solid. Make your road drain to the sides."

Thirty people now drink "Trickle" GET IT AT GREEN'S

Penny-A-Word Column.

Have you something you want to sell? Want to buy something? Send a card or changeboard! Is there something you have lost or found? Perhaps you have something to exchange for something else and haven't found the right person to complete the deal. Try an advertisement in this column. Penny-a-word, each insertion. No advertisement accepted for less than 25 cents.

FOUND—Back leather cigar case. Owner may secure same by calling at the Republican office, proving property and paying for this advertisement. 7-15-31.

WANTED—YOUNG MEN to learn automobile business by mail and prepare for positions as chauffeurs and repair men. We make you expert in ten weeks; assist you to secure position. Pay big; work pleasant; demand for men great; reasonable; write for particulars and sample lesson. Empire Automobile Institute, Rochester, N. Y.

CUT PRICES on shoe repairing: Men's half soles and heels, 50¢; ladies half soles and heels, 40¢; men's half soles and heels, sewed, 75¢; ladies half soles and heels, sewed, 65¢. A nice, neat job and all work guaranteed for three months. If it will not last you three months, you can return and we will fix them for nothing. Pietro Neromi, S. Water St. Bellefonte. 7-29-31.

Executor's Sale of Real Estate.

The undersigned, Executor of the Estate of Catharine Flaherty, late of Beaver Township, Centre County, Penna., deceased, will expose to Public Sale, the premises about three miles from Bellefonte, SAT

Correspondence.

Continued from fifth page.

Millheim.

A large number of people from Penna. Valley attended the picnic near Rebersburg, held by G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans, last Saturday. The Coburn band furnished the music.

Isaac Shawver, proprietor of the National Hotel, had business in Snyder County, last week.

Violet, the young daughter of Dr. F. E. Gutelius, has recovered from her recent illness.

The congregations of the Aaronsburg charge of the Reformed Church, held a picnic in Dr. Frank's grove, west of town, on Thursday of last week. Aaronsburg and Coburn bands enlivened the occasion with choice music. Rev. Wetzel, of Rebersburg, and Rev. Donat, of Aaronsburg, were the speakers. Hundreds of people were in attendance and a very enjoyable time they had.

D. W. Zeigler has put down a concrete pavement in front of his residence, which is a great improvement.

Mrs. Frank Torbet, of Jersey Shore, is a guest at the home of T. B. Motz, on Penn Street. She is a former resident of Penn Township.

Plasterers and carpenters are busy finishing the several new buildings in town which will be completed in the near future.

The Farmers National Bank will open for business about October 1.

Julius Moschlein, the well known brewer of Sunbury, came to town in an auto last week. He was accompanied by one of his nephews and interviewed landlady Shawver. "Will you take something?"

Miss Sue Reighard, of Millburg, and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lynch, of Providence, R. I., were in town last week, looking after their properties, consisting of a large farm and some dwelling houses.

Philip M. Frey, a successful business man of Lewisburg, was in town one day last week. He is a nephew of Dr. Sumner Musser, of Aaronsburg.

Rush G. Larimer and wife of Bellefonte passed through town on their way to Northumberland one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cullom and their two sons, Theodore and Russell, and a coachman, of Pottsville, are touring the country with a full camping outfit. They took dinner at the National a day or two ago.

E. J. Walker of Philadelphia, had business with merchant A. A. Frank recently.

W. H. Cruse of Bellefonte an employee of the Bell Telephone Company, was in this section several days ago looking after the interests of his company.

Alexander McCoy, of Potter's Mills, the well known horse and cattle buyer, was in this vicinity one day last week.

W. C. Keen and son, Stewart, have bought from Simon King the bus route to Coburn.

John A. Williams, of Port Matilda, registered at the National recently.

A band of gypsies are encamped in the Narrows, north of town, and are engaged in basket making, buying, selling and trading horses and telling fortunes.

Wallace Brothers, of Milesburg, have done some artistic work as bricklayers on the new buildings here. They are very genial fellows.

The walks at the post office and at the hardware store on Penn St. should be condemned at once, and the owners compelled to put down new and substantial ones. Those walks are a confounded nuisance.

Mrs. W. R. Anderson, of Shickshinny, is on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller, on Penn street, for a few weeks.

Francis J. Baker, Register and Recorder of Union County, his wife and daughter, Joel Reish, the well known distiller, of Cowan, and his wife, took dinner at the National last Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Harter, of Dakota, is visiting relatives here. She is a former resident, but went to Dakota some years ago.

P. P. Leitzel, one day last week, missed his pocket book containing about $125 and on last Saturday morning a letter was dropped in the P. O. box containing $52 of the money which was lost or stolen. Strange doings.

Miss Mable Gentzel, of Beaver Falls, is visiting relatives here for a few days. She is accompanied by Miss Edna Koonz, of Bellefonte. One person was very pleased to have the latter visiting here. For further information, ask Jay Wallace, one of the bricklayers at work here.

On last Saturday the thermometer registered 98 degrees in the shade. We have had but one rain here, since June 17, consequently all things growing out of the ground are suffering very much on account of the drought.

Centre Hall.

Farmers are very much pleased with the outlook for crops.

R. D. Brislin & Co's saw mill is in full blast. They are so busy that they are behind with orders.

James From has accepted a position as lineman for the Bell Telephone Co., in Tyrone.

The funeral of Mrs. Frank Armagast took place last Tuesday. Interment was made at Tusseyville.

"Bert" Bayard, of the Tyrone "Herald," was a Centre Hall visitor one day last week.

Mrs. John Calderon was called to Aaronsburg several days ago on account of her mother's illness.

Miss Lizzie Booser and Ruth Thomas drove to Millheim, Saturday. Miss Booser was hunting board as she is going to teach school there this winter.

Irvin Gettiss has secured a position as butcher at Northumberland.

Samuel Krumline and his brother are in town, having come here to repaint their father's house, tenanted by Robt. Sweetwood.

The condition of Samuel Brass, west of town, is, we are sorry to say no better. Prof. Geo. P. Bible, of Philadelphia, spent a day with his cousin, Miss Anna Bible, east of town.

B. Dornblazer, of Hagerstown, Md., was in town tuning pianos this week.

Guy W. Jacobs, a student at State College, isaiding the Deininger Mfg. Co., in building swings.

The light of the Club House burning at Hecla was very noticeable from here.

The five congregations of the Lutheran church held their annual picnic at Indian Lane, east of Old Port. Rev. Barry, of Bellefonte, was present. The day was beautiful and enjoyed by all present.

William Stuart, the Boalsburg merchant, and Frank McFarland, tarried in town, Saturday.

Woodward.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Eby visited their son, Calvin, at Pottsville, a few days last week.

Frank Motz, wife and children, of Pittsburg; Miss Jennie Reigard of Freeport, Ill., and Mrs. Gast, of Millburg, spent a day at the "Woodward House."

Wm. Fultz, Harry Kessinger, John Sheesley and Milton Barner left for Harter, West Va., on Wednesday, at which place they have employment.

Dr. Geo. Ard, of Spring City, is spending his vacation with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Ard.

Mrs. Ard and daughter, Miss Maude, attended Joseph Ard's funeral at Pine Grove Mills, last Friday.

James Kitzer and daughter, Mrs. Wm. Fultz, Geo. Fultz, Mrs. Ida Kessinger and daughter, Mary, Miss Bessie Condo and Mrs. E. Orndorf attended the funeral of Mr. Missimer, at Spring Mills, last Saturday.

After spending ten days in town, G. R. Slifer and family returned to their home, in Philadelphia, last week.

A. C. Slifer and sister, Miss Grace, of Lewisburg, spent two days in town recently.

Miss Blanche Barner, a young lady from Huntingdon, W. Va., is visiting her grand-parents, Andrew Moyer's.

Miss Charlotte Guisewite, after spending a short time with her mother, Mrs. Daniel Stover, returned to her home in Harrisburg, last Thursday.

Edson Fultz, who had been working at Pleasant Gap, returned home sick on Friday.

Mrs. Moser, of Pittsburg Miss Helen Dreese, of Lemont, and Wilson Ard, of New Jersey, are visitors at the home of Dr. W. P. Ard.

A. M. Yearick and family visited the lady's parents, at Laurelton, Saturday and Sunday.

Lemont.

W. R. Houser and family, of Bellefonte, Sundayed at the home of J. E. Linker.

Wm. Brandt and wife, of Coburn, are visiting at Mrs. Frank Bohn's.

J. O. Williams, of Altoona, spent a few days of this week in town.

Mrs. James Williams, of State College, spent Monday with her sister, Mrs. John Glenn.

Miss Helen Waite, of Lock Haven, is visiting Mrs. Angeline Bottorf.

Miss Lula Wike and Beulah Lomison, of Altoona, who recently visited Daniel Weaver's, returned home last Saturday.

J. Will Mayes, of Howard, spent a few days last week in town.

P. B. Ludwig, of Ebensburg, who has been visiting relatives in this place and vicinity for the past few weeks, returned home on Wednesday.

Are we Creating a Desert.

"Soil and water are our richest treasures, the waste of which threatens the very foundations of a commonwealth. The fertility and the stability of the soil are in closest relation to water conditions, and these again are most directly dependent on the condition of the soil cover. Denude your soil of its protective forest cover by axe and repeated fire, expose it to the wasting of the waters, and it will lose its stability and change its location—it actually runs away. Destroy the protective forest cover of the rocky portions of the country and soon the thin soil is washed off and the native rock remains—a stone desert."—Dr. B. E. Fernow, Dean of the Faculty of Forestry, University of Toronto.

Try Admiral Coffee.

Ri ga Litt Liver Pills—small pleasant and easy to take. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Send us $1 and we will send you all the news in "The Republican" each week for one year.

S-chile is the place to get your garden seeds in pack-ge or by measure.

Try Admiral Coffee.

Famous boneless bacon for sale at chiers Try it.

Take Kodol at the times when you feel what you have eaten is not digesting. Kodol digests what you eat so you can eat sufficiently of any good, wholesome food, if you will just let Kodol digest it. Sold by all Druggists.

If you are all run down Foley's Kidney Pills will help you, as they strengthen the kidneys so they will eliminate the impurities from the blood that depress the nerves, and cause exhaustion, backache, rheumatism, and urinary irregularities, which sap the vitality. Do not delay. Take Foley's Kidney Pills at once. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

MAMMOTH NEW STATION

Penna. Railroad Places Last Stone In New York Structure.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has placed in position the last piece of stone in the exterior of its new station in New York City. This involved the completion of stonework enclosing some eight acres of ground, and marks a most important step in the further progress of this undertaking.

To enclose this vast area has necessitated the building of exterior walls aggregating 2,458 feet—nearly half a mile—in length, and has required 490,000 cubic feet of pink granite. In addition, there have been utilized inside the concourse 60,000 cubic feet of stone. A total of 550,000 cubic feet of granite have thus been utilized in the construction and ornamentation of this building. It took 1,140 freight cars to transport these 47,000 tons of stone from Milford, Mass.

In addition to the granite, the construction of this building has called for the use of 27,000 tons of steel. There have also been set in place some 15,000,000 bricks, weighing a total of 48,000 tons. The first stone of the masonry work on the building was laid June 15, 1908. The entire masonry was thus completed in approximately thirteen months after the work was begun.

Built after the Roman Doric Style of architecture, the building covers the entire area bounded by Seventh and Eighth Avenues and 31st and 33rd Streets. The depth of the property on both streets is 799 feet 11-1/4 inches, and the length of the building is 788 ft 9 inches thus allowing for extra-wide sidewalks on both avenues. The walls extend for 430 feet 6 inches from 31st to 33rd Streets, the Seventh Avenue facade signaling the main entrance.

In designing the exterior of the building, Messrs. McKim, Mead & White, the architects, were at pains to embody two ideas: To express in so far as was practicable, with the unusual condition of tracks far below the street surface and in spite of the absence of the conventional train shed, the exterior design of a great railway station in a generally accepted form; and also to give to the building the character of a monumental gateway and entrance to a great metropolis.

Apart from these two ideas, the plan of the station was designed to give the greatest number of lines of circulation. The structure is really a monumental bridge over the tracks, with entrances to the streets on its main axes and on all four sides. In this respect this building is unique among the railway stations of the world, affording the maximum amount of entrance and exit facilities possible.

The Seventh Avenue facade is composed principally of a Roman Doric colonnade, double at the carriage entrances at the street ends and at the main front entrance for pedestrians in the centre, each of the columns being 4 feet 6 inches in diameter and 35 feet high. Above the central colonnade is an entablature surmounted by a clock with a dial 7 feet in diameter. The centre of this clock is on the axial line of 32nd Street, and 61 feet above the sidewalk.

This Seventh Avenue facade was conceived especially to express in largest possible fashion a monumental gateway. It may be compared in a greatly magnified manner to the Brandenburg Gate, in Berlin, through which passes so much of the traffic of that city.

The main body of the building approximates in height the Bourse of Paris, reaching 76 feet above the street level. With entrances through each of the two corners of the station on Seventh Avenue there are carriage drives, each about 63 feet wide, or the width of a standard New York City Street, fronted by double columns and pediments. The frontage on 31st and 33rd Streets are similar. The walls of the exterior of the carriage drives are of pilaster treatment for a distance of some 279 feet.

Midway along the sides of the building, signaling the entrances on 31st and 33rd Streets, are series of columns of the same dimensions as those on the Seventh and Eighth Avenue facade, for a distance of 117 feet. Above these colonnades there are also sculptured groups supporting a large ornamental clock. For 116 feet beyond there are interrupted colonnades, after which the walls are of pilaster treatment to Eighth Avenue, with the exception of 45 ft. colonnades marking entrances to the concourse.

The Eighth Avenue frontage is treated on the plan of pilasters except for 44 feet 6 inches which are broken by columns into intervals of three spaces to mark another spacious entrance to the main floor of the concourse.

One of the distinctive features of this building is the waiting-room, which extends from 31st to 33rd Streets, its walls parallel to Seventh and Eighth Avenues, for a distance of 314 feet 4 inches. The height of this room is 150 feet and its width 108 feet 8 inches. The walls of the waiting-room above the main body of the building contain on each side three semi-circular windows of a radius of 33 feet 4 inches and 66 feet 8 inches wide at the base. There is also a window of like size at each end of the waiting room.

The dignified design of the interior of the general waiting-room, while fully adapted to modern ideas, was suggested by the great halls and basilicas of Rome, such as the baths of Caracalla, Titus and Dioeletian, and the basilica of Constantine, which are perhaps the greatest examples in history of large roofed-in areas treated in a monumental manner.

While the facades of the station were intended to suggest the imposing character of these ancient Roman temples and baths, the impression intended to be made upon the layman approaching the station, in full view of the exterior of the general waiting-room with its huge semi-circular windows, is that of one of the leading railway stations of the world.

SUMMER FRILLS.

How to Keep the Summer Wardrobe Fresh and Dainty.

Lingerie waists should be pressed when they are mused and not soiled, but if they are stained with perspiration, be it ever so little, do not press them. Wash them at once, and if they are delicate or old sew them up in an old pillowslip while you are doing it.

Clean your white shoes with gasoline, then when it has wholly evaporated wash them in peroxide of hydrogen and set in the sun to dry.

If you get grass stains on any cotton or linen fabric rub it with black molasses, then wash in the regular way.

If you have a lot of Irish lace jabots or collars, after they are washed pick out each figure and pick with a fine crochet hook. That's what the professionals do.

Chamois gloves may be washed in a lukewarm lather of white soapsuds. Wash through soapy water twice, pat and squeeze, but do not wring hard; rinse well in lukewarm water, wrap in a heavy towel until most of the water is out, then hang up to dry. Do not wring or squeeze the water out. When they are dry rub between the hands until they are soft and pliable, stretch with the glove stretcher, and they will be like new.

If you have dropped grease on a white dress and there is no cleaning stuff at hand rub the spot with talcum powder, brush out, rub the powder in again and leave the spot overnight, liberally covered with talcum. It will take it almost all out.

Run a basting thread with long stitches in your plaited jabots before laundering. It will save a lot of trouble when they are ready for ironing.

If your pink linen dress shows signs of fading pick it with a square of turkey red calico and it will come out like new.

Iron rust stains must be rubbed with lemon and salt and held in the steam of a rapidly boiling kettle. This is much quicker and better than the old way of laying the spot in the sun.

Most people know that one can touch up faded artificial flowers with water color paints or oil paints mixed with gasoline, but pink flowers can be touched up with rouge and look much better than do cheeks painted with the same stuff.

Blue linen frocks should be put through a dark blue water and have a little bluing put into the starch to keep them looking unfaded. All colored clothing should be dried in the shade. Silk and lace gloves wash readily in lukewarm suds made of good white soap. They should be well rinsed, squeezed in a towel and hung up to dry.

A soiled chiffon veil or scarf may be laundered in exactly the same way as the gloves, taking care not to wring or squeeze it. The dirt must be gently patted out. While still wet it must be pinned in its proper shape on a table or bed, and after it is dry the edge may be pressed with a warm iron.

If one will carefully darn the toes and heels of the thin silk and silk stockings with a fine silk thread before wearing they will wear much longer. The gitchies must be taken only up and down in parallel rows, not across.

WHAT TO EAT IN SUMMER.

According to some dietists, the summer don'ts are so numerous that there appears to be little left that is appetizing. It is agreed by observers that it is rational to avoid all forms of food known to be injurious at other seasons. There is no reason to suppose that they are less likely to make trouble during the heat of the term.

EAT MEAT NOT MORE THAN ONCE A DAY and alternate this with fish if it can be procured absolutely fresh. Get the needed strength at two meals from milk and eggs and from dishes in which these foods have been incorporated, such as milk soups and custard puddings.

Use crisp breads instead of fresh ones or pasty cereals. Use fresh green vegetable salads freely. Dress these salads with plenty of oil and a dash of vinegar. Oil and butter are heat giving to a certain extent, but they are not heavy and are useful in keeping up bodily tone.

For desserts use perfectly ripe fruits, water ices flavored with fruit juices or the custard puddings spoken of.

Use tea and coffee as seems best for the individual.

A sudden cutting off of either of these beverages is not advisable, according to most physicians, but one should not depend on the stimulation gained from their free use for refreshment in hot weather.

FARMERS' UNION A FACT.

Million and a Half Members Work Together to Control Prices of Products.

The Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America now has a membership of 1,500,000 in the twenty-four states where it is organized. One of the objects of the union is to rush the construction of elevators in time for the handling of the wheat crop of 1909 when it is thrashed. The organization is the outcome of a project suggested by a Texas schoolteacher.

All the southern states have union organizations, as have Missouri, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Oklahoma and Washington. Two great crops, cotton and wheat, have received the attention of the union up to date. But this will not be the limit of the organization's activity in the future, the members assert.

It is the object of the union to make "standard" prices for everything raised on American farms, from a bale of cotton to a dozen eggs. As yet, however, there has been no scale of prices fixed to cover the whole list. That is a matter to be worked out by each state organization. There is a minimum and maximum price for wheat, the so called "fair" or "standard" price for that grain being a dollar a bushel.

It is the purpose of the union to have elevators to store grain in, to be sold at such time and for such prices as the local may think best, provided that none be sold below the minimum price and that none be held for more than the maximum price. All sales are conducted through the business agents, the union being at work to eliminate the middleman.

This is attempted by having the business agent deal directly with consumers, so each business agent has a list of mills and grain buyers who want the actual grain for manufacturing or feeding purposes, and he keeps in touch with them by correspondence. Each local has a business agent, and there is one for each state and a national business agent.

A farmer who needs cash after putting his wheat in a union elevator is told over his "right place" by brother members of the union who are better fixed than he. The same sort of system is in operation in the southern states, where cotton instead of wheat is the great staple crop. The elevators and cotton warehouses are stock concerns, the fair value of each share of stock being fixed by the local which erects the elevator, but the fact that a member holds stock in the union's enterprise does not give him any more extensive privileges in the organization or in the handling of his grain.

The association is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Though it is not a real branch of that organization, there exists between the two what is known as a fraternal understanding.

The union operates several banks. The charter of the national union was issued by Texas, giving it authority to charter branches anywhere and engage in any business practically. A few union co-operative stores are in existence. Country girls more than sixteen years old and farmers' wives are admitted to honorary membership. The locals meet twice a month, and the social features are by no means the least important in the union.

Beet Sugar in the United States.

Beet sugar factories are now in successful operation in sixteen states. Colorado leads all other states engaged in the industry, having sixteen factories. In 1907 these produced 103,000 tons of sugar, or enough if it had been passed around to give all the people in the United States four pounds apiece.

California and Michigan follow Colorado at a respectful distance in the race for second place. Michigan has the same number of factories as Colorado, but their product is considerably smaller. California has only nine plants, but some of the latter are very large. From year to year the production of sugar is about the same in the two states.

Utah has five factories, and they are strong producers. Idaho and Wisconsin follow with four each, and there are ten states with one factory each.

The most eastern factory is that at Lyons, N. Y. Hamilton City, Cal., has the most western factory. Los Alamitos, Cal., the most southern and Billings, Mont., the most northern.

The largest factory in the United States and one of the largest in the world is the one at Spreckels, Cal., which is able to slice 3,000 tons of beets in a day, or a hundred carloads of thirty tons each.

The oldest successful factory in the United States is the one at Alvarado, Cal., which was established in 1879 and has been making beet sugar for thirty years.

Lambs, Rams and Mutton.

The time that elapses between service and lambing runs from 145 to 150 days. About 147 days will catch the great majority. As in mares, the males are carried slightly longer than the females. Old ewes, say from four to six years, will produce the most lamb, and will save the most. There are more single lambs produced by young ewes than by older ones. Merino is the wool sheep, Shropshire the all purpose and Southdown the best mutton sheep.

Weeding Small Fruits.

Do your weeding among the small fruits with mulching of swale hay, straw or forest leaves. This will save a large amount of hard work in hoeing. It holds the moisture, keeps the weeds from growing, keeps the fruit clean while growing and ripening. The fruit will grow much larger and of finer quality and certainly will bring better prices.

Send us $1 and we will send you all the news in "The Republican" each week for one year.

THE ORIGINAL LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE HONEY AND TAR "ALL DEALERS"

Central R. R. of Penna. Train Schedule.

Leave, Bellefonte for Mill Hall, 7:05 A. M., 2:20 and 6:55 P. M.

Leave, Mill Hall for Bellefonte, 8:33 A. M., 3:56 and 8:35 P. M.

BELLEFONTE CENTRAL RAILROAD.

On and after Monday, Jan. 20, 1909, trains will run as follows from P. R. R. station.

TRAINS TO STATE COLLEGE.
WESTWARD.	A. M.	A. M.	P. M.
Lv. Bellefonte.....	7:30	10:15	2:00
Coleville.....	7:35	10:20	2:07
Morris.....	7:40	10:25	2:13
Pleasant Gap.....	7:45	10:30	2:17
Hunters Park.....	7:50	10:35	2:21
Pittsburg.....	7:55	10:40	2:26
Wardle.....	8:00	10:45	2:32
Krumrine.....	8:05	10:50	2:38
State College.....	8:10	10:55	2:40
Strubels.....	8:15	11:00	2:45
Bloomersford.....	8:20	11:05	2:50
Pine Grove Mills.....	8:25	11:10	2:55

* Daily, * Daily except Sunday, * Stop flag.

TRAINS FROM STATE COLLEGE.

lv Pine Grove Mills.....	7.35
Bloomersford.....	7.40
Strubels.....	7.45
State College.....	8.00	11.50
Krumrine.....	8.07
Wardle.....	8.20	12.10
Pittsburg.....	8.24		12.15
Hunters Park.....	8.31
Stevens.....	8.35
Morris.....	8.37
Coleville.....	8.40		1.30
lv Bellefonte.....	8.50	12.50

Morning trains from Montandon, Lewisburg, Williamsport, Lock Haven and Tyrone connect with train No. 3 and 5 for State College. Afternoon trains from Montandon, Lewisburg, Williamsport, Lock Haven and Tyrone connect with train No. 5 for State College. Trains from State College connect with Penna. R. R. trains at Bellefonte to points east and west.

* Stops on flag.

* Daily except Sunday.

F. H. THOMAS, Supt.

Lincoln's Catarrh Balm

$500 REWARD for proof of any false testimony herein. Lincoln's Catarrh Balm has the signed testimonials of a. e. n. stating that they were relieved quickly and cured of Catarrh, Throat Troubles, Asthma and Hay Fever.

Ministers of the Gospel Recommend Lincoln's Catarrh Balm.

Rev. S. L. Messenger, Trappe, Pa.: Rev. W. G. Hrubaker, Phoenixville, Pa.: Rev. J. E. Freeman, East Mauch Chunk, Pa.: Rev. D. P. Longford, Weisport, Pa.: Rev. A. H. Soullard, L. v. kens. Pa.: Rev. Albert Gonsler, Mt. Carmel, Pa.: Write that they have used Lincoln's Catarrh Balm, and highly recommend it.

Here and There.

George M. Mallory spent Sunday with relatives in Altoona.

For a good smoke try "Black & White" AT GREEN'S PHARMACY.

John Rankin left, Friday, for a ten days' sojourn with relatives, in Williamsport.

Miss Alice Fox, departed, Sunday, for a fortnight's visit with friends in Bellwood and Altoona.

Louis Port, one of Huntingdon's most progressive liveryman, transacted business in town, Friday.

Mrs. Sovilla Gottschall departed, Saturday, for a two weeks' visit with relatives at Bellevue, Ohio.

Miss Ida Klinger, of East Lamb Street, departed, last week for a month's visit with friends, in Philadelphia.

Mrs. John Hazel, of Niagara Falls, is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. R. Stanton, of Waddles.

Mrs. D. H. Hastings is home from Bedford, where she was a guest at the Hickok cottage for several weeks.

J. F. McDonnell, formerly of Unionville, now train despatcher at Tyrone, greeted old friends, in town Friday.

Mrs. Frank Torvit returned Monday, to her home in Jersey Shore, after spending a short time at the home of J. S. McGarver.

Miss Emma Smith, one of Mrs. J. A. Aiken's efficient clerks, is visiting at the home of her brother, George Smith, of Altoona.

Miss Lois Calderwood, superintendent of the Bellefonte Hospital, returned, Sunday, after a month's visit with her parents, at Dennison, Ohio.

Mrs. Nathan Reisman, of Princeton, Ind., who had been visiting at the home of Mrs. Reisman's father, A. Baum, departed, Thursday, for a visit with relatives, in New York.

The County Commissioners are building a very substantial bridge over the Old Race, at the upper entrance to the Fair Grounds. The foundations are of concrete and the superstructure is of iron.

Miss Sarah M. Miller is collecting old magazines, which she will sell to the paper mills. Miss Miller broke her hip several years ago, while walking on an icy pavement, and since then has been almost totally disabled.

Among the visitors last week, at the C. K. Hicklen home were Mrs. Martha C. Reynolds, of National City, Cal.; Mrs. Mary Peters and son, John, and Miss Anna Peters, of Philadelphia, and D. I. Peters, of Walla Walla, Washington.

There will be an ice cream festival at the headquarters of the Salvation Army on Monday, August 16, to help defray the expense of the poor children's picnic, at Hecla Park, August 23. Funds are earnestly solicited by Ensign and Mrs. Harvey.

Mrs. Cameron Burnside chaperoned a party of girls, last Friday, on a straw ride to Hecla Park. In the party were Misses Anne Lyon, Sarah Hastings, Rebecca Valentine, Virginia Dale, Marion Lingle, Lucretia Williams, Madeline Rowe, Ellen Hayes, Mary Clayton, Grace Cook, Daily Clayton and Janet Potter.

Alfred W. Bierly, of Milesburg, is in the Bellefonte Hospital, as the result of a peculiar accident. On Friday last, while installing a machine in his saw mill, he slipped and fell on a foot-ax. Although he fell only a few feet, the foot-ax cut clear through the tendon of his heel. At present he is getting along nicely.

Reuben Lucas, of Howard, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday. He was accompanied by Harry O. Randall, who isn't a Howard boy but who did the next best thing by marrying a Howard girl when he decided it was time to choose a wife. Mr. Lucas and Mr. Randall were pleasant callers at "The Republican" office, between trains.

Two patients were discharged this week from the Bellefonte Hospital, as cured. They are Miss Eliza Lora, a nurse, who was successfully operated on for appendicitis, and Miss Jessica Kerstetter, a nurse in training, who had been suffering with pluriisy. Both young ladies departed for their respective homes, where they will spend a month recuperating.

John South, of Bridgeport, Ohio, and Lorne Hummel, of Harrisburg, two Bellefonte Academy boys, are in town greeting friends. According to Mr. South, Townsend Frazier, also of Bridgeport, and a former Academy boy, entered the University of Pennsylvania last year and at his examinations, concluding the term, received five "D's" out of a possible six. Mr. South and Mr. Hummel will enter the University of Pennsylvania in September.

Kid Edwards, a Brooklyn lightweight, was in town hunting a fight this week. The kid is quite a versatile press agent, and according to his own description, "wouldn't fake fighting me brudder." Mr. Edwards knocked out Jimmy Barry in seven round bout, at Lock Haven, three years ago. At present he would like to get into communication with Kid Pilkington, Kid Lucas, Kid Ward, or any other likely "Kid, but not finding any here he left town Tuesday night.

Mrs. Frank Sasserman and family are visiting friends in Sunbury.

William McFarlane spent Sunday with his parents, in Lock Haven.

L. H. Miller, of Hecla Park, transacted business in town, Saturday.

Fred Robb returned, Monday, after a ten days vacation, in Washington.

Fenway Chocolates melt in the mouth 60¢ the lb. AT GREEN'S PHARMACY.

W. A. Collins, of Pine Grove Mills, transacted business in Bellefonte, Saturday.

Miss Helen Robb returned, Sunday, after a week's visit with friends in Lock Haven.

Miss Mary Bradley departed, Monday, to visit her sister, Mrs. Joseph Riley, at Bradford.

Mr. and Mrs. William Shope, of Lock Haven, were over-Sunday visitors in Bellefonte.

Henry Sents and Karl Johnsonbaugh, of State College, transacted business in town, Saturday.

W. W. Edmonds and J. S. Weaver, of Aaronsburg, were business visitors in Bellefonte, Saturday.

O. H. Nason, of Julian, and John A. Williams, of Port Matilda, were business visitors in town, Saturday.

Miss Helen Bible, of Philadelphia, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Benjamin Bradley, of West Spring Street.

Masters Theodore and Frank Kelly, sons of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Kelly, are visiting the O'Brien boys, at Snow Shoe.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Smith and W. F. Bradford were numbered among Centre Hall's quota of visitors, in town, Saturday.

Mrs. Harry Cox and daughter, Lynn, of Neilmont, Pa., are visiting at the home of Fredrick Bryan, on Thomas street.

Mrs. Curt Senser and daughter, Bess, of Reynoldsville, spent several days last week as guests of Dr. M. A. Kirk and family.

Rev. J. Allison Platts passed through here, Saturday morning, on the Tyrone train, enroute from Glenora, N. Y., to Pittsburg.

Mrs. Joseph Ayers returned, Monday, to her home in Josephine, Pa., after a pleasant visit at the home of George Miller, of Bush's Addition.

Miss Sarah Bogle has secured a position as a librarian in the Carnegie Library, at Pittsburg. She will be in charge of seven girls in her department.

Misses Sarah and Carrie Bayard of Williamsport, are spending a few days as the guests of R. B. Taylor. On Sunday, Roger T. Bayard, of Tyrone, was a visitor at the Taylor home.

Mrs. Thomas Moore and Claude Hull, of Philadelphia, are visiting Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. William Dawson, of Bishop Street. They will be joined, on Saturday, by Mr. Moore and daughter, Helen.

Misses Lillian and Nettie Otto, of Williamsport, are visiting at the Green home, on Linn Street. They were accompanied to Bellefonte by Mrs. Catherine Dinges, who has just completed a very pleasant trip to Niagara Falls.

Miss Anna Goldberg, returned, Monday, to her home, in Philadelphia, after a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Jacob Finkelstine. At present Mrs. Finkelstine is entertaining Mrs. Harry Hirsh, of Philadelphia.

Daniel, the youngest of the Hickok children, is quite ill at the Hastings home. On Monday, Ross A. Hickok, accompanied by Dr. William Wright, of Harrisburg, made a flying trip to Bellefonte, to keep in touch with his son's condition.

Mrs. William Stuart, of Oklahoma, who has been summering with friends in State College and Bellefonte, departed, Monday, for Atlantic City, where she will join her husband on their homeward trip. Mrs. Stuart spent a few days, last week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Olewine.

The second quarterly communion service will be held in the local United Evangelical Church next Sunday evening, at which time the presiding elder, Rev. J. C. Reeser, will preach the Word and officiate. The people of Bellefonte always enjoy hearing Rev. Reeser and honor him with a good attendance.

Wallace H. Gephart, the railroad president, and James C. Furst, the lawyer, dropped business cares for an hour or two, last Saturday evening, and went down to Huston, for a good, old-fashioned supper. The fact that they didn't hurry home is pretty good evidence that they got what they were after.

The gymnasium and athletic field of the Lock Haven Normal School are not excelled by those of any other secondary school in Pennsylvania. Physical education is not neglected in this important school. The academic studies are rigorously taught and the professional work is modern and in accordance with the latest pedagogy. The fall term opens Sept. 5th. Send for a catalogue.

Harry Ulmer Tibbens, a former Bellefonte boy, now advertising manager for the department store of Stone & Thomas, of Wheeling, W. Va., was greeting friends in town several days ago. That he has proved to be the right man in the right place is demonstrated by the fact that he has been handling the advertising for Stone & Thomas for the last five years. Harry thinks so well of Wheeling that he has purchased a home there.

Mrs. Robert Irvin is visiting friends in Altoona.

Aaron Katz is quite ill with cholera morbus.

Hastings Gates is threatened with typhoid fever.

Welch's Grape Juice 10¢ to 50¢—GET IT AT GREEN'S

Miss Helen Trafford is visiting relatives, in Williamsport.

Ambrose Ray is very critically ill at his home, on Howard Street.

W. A. Haggerty, of Clearfield, greeted old friends in town, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Fleming spent Monday, with relatives at Renovo.

Miss Harriet Foster is visiting her brother, Samuel Foster, in Juniata.

Have you a pain anywhere? Try GREEN'S White Camphor Liniment.

Charles Ball, of Lock Haven, attended the horse sale, here, on Wednesday.

Miss Rose Dussling departed Tuesday, for a week's visit with friends, in Altoona.

Mrs. Thomas Buchanan and family, of Altoona, are visiting among Bellefonte relatives.

Mrs. Odille Mott was in Lock Haven, Tuesday, attending the funeral of her sister-in-law.

Tirrel, the little son of Register and Mrs. Earle C. Tuten, has been quite ill for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. William Royer, of Spring Street, are rejoicing over the birth of a baby boy.

Miss Grace Blackford, head cashier with Joseph Bros. & Co., is visiting friends in Bradford.

A. W. Moore, the expert operator at the Western Union office, is visiting friends, at Lancaster.

Miss Lizzie Lambert, of Waterbury, Conn., is spending the month of August with relatives in Centre county.

Miss Mary R. Griest, of Unionville, spent several days in town, this week, as the guest of Mrs. David J. Kelly.

Scott Lose will play with the Repaz band, of Williamsport, at the business men's picnic, at Hecla Park, Aug. 24.

Mrs. George Kerstetter and daughter, of Harrisburg, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Kerstetter's sister, Mrs. Harry Veager.

Don Poske, solicitor for the "Chronicle Telegraph," of Pittsburg, is visiting at the home of his uncle, Sheriff W. E. Hurley.

Miss Bess Glover returned, Wednesday, to her home, at Warriorsmark, after a pleasant visit with her uncle, George S. Grimm.

Mrs. Malcolm Heine and son, William, departed, Thursday, for Niagara Falls, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Raymond Atcheson.

Mrs. Lantz and daughter, and Miss Catherine Badger, all of Lewisburg, spent Sunday at the home of Harry Badger, on Bishop Street.

Mrs. George Rothrock returned, Wednesday, to her home, in Niagara Falls, after a lengthy visit at the home of her brother, Henry Rothrock.

The City Band have been engaged to accompany the Logan Fire Company to Jersey Shore, on August 19, the occasion of the annual Firemen's Convention.

Misses Helen Harper, Jennie Longacre and May Taylor, three of Bellefonte's most popular school-teachers, departed, Wednesday, for a brief vacation, at Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McCalmont, of Morrison, Ohio, arrived in Bellefonte, Tuesday, and will spend the next few weeks at the home of J. S. Walker, on Linn Street.

Manager Clayton Brown is having a fancy tin ceiling installed in his Scenic theatre. The side walls will be repapered, and all new electric wiring put through the building.

Mrs. Frederick Chambers, who had been visiting at the home of E. R. Chambers, departed, Thursday, for Pittsburg, where she will join her husband, on a trip to Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland.

Among those who took advantage of the Pennsy's attractive excursion to Niagara Falls, Wednesday, were Mrs. Edward Nolan and Mrs. Harry Garbrick, of Coleville, and Van S. and Andrew C. J. don, of Bellefonte.

Invitations are out for the marriage of W. Jesse Derstine and Miss Violet Florence Irvin. The wedding will be held next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of Miss Irvin's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Irvin.

On Friday last, Willard Pardoe got into a scrap with several men and, it is alleged, somebody used a razor, no doubt for social purposes. Afterward Pardoe secretly made for parts unknown and on Saturday it was reported around town that he was killed. However, after some telephoning, Chief-of-Police Dukeman located the boy at work on a farm at Port Matilda.

The work of the Lock Haven Normal school, is primarily, to prepare teachers for the public schools. In this work it has been eminently successful. Its graduates today are college professors, normal school teachers, county superintendents, high school and grade teachers. It also maintains a college preparatory department, as well as departments of Music, Elocution, Art and Business. Send for its new catalogue.

REMEMBER!

SATURDAY is the Big Auction Lot Sale at State College.

These are the only Lots offered for sale in State College Borough.

When Your Neighbors begin to build your ground grows in value.

DON'T FORGET

We will run a free special train, leaving Bellefonte at 10.30 o'clock Saturday, for all persons interested in State College.

Attend this sale and secure one of these Bargains

50 Choice Building Lots 50

INVEST IN STATE COLLEGE REAL ESTATE

LOCATION and GROUNDS. This Valuable Addition of State College is Located in the Borough, Where Building is now going on, and within 5 minutes walk of the Main College Buildings.

Balloon Ascension by one of the Greatest Aeronauts in the World

Take a day off, Come and bring your Friends Ladies are Specially Invited.

$500 Lot Given Away. Come, You May be Lucky. Some one is Sure to Win It.

Band Concert During The Day by One of The Best Bands in Central Pennsylvania.

When opportunity knocks, open the door and let it enter. Save something. How long are you going to be just one of many Human Cog-wheels of business? How long are you going to abuse your opportunities in life? If you have not acquired the habit of saving a part of your earnings, begin to-day. You are not working for the money you can earn --Learn to make your money work for you.

Don't fail to attend the Big Auction Sale on Saturday, August 14th, Beginning at 1 P. M. sharp--Don't Buy a Lot Until Then--We Will Show You How To Double Your Money--You Name Your Own Price --Liberal Terms.

Leathers Bros., Managers.

For further information consult the Managers in their office at State College.

YOUR REAL ESTATE Will Make Your OLD AGE Comfortable.

Col. J. C. Morrow, AUCTIONEER.

The Greatest Real Estate Auctioneer on Earth. He has a record of selling lots at the rate of one per minute. A man with 35 years experience. It is worth your while to hear him.

YOUNG MAN OWN A HOME BUY IT NOW.